FOX 'PLOT' TALE STIRS TALK OF IMPEACHMENT

City Hall May War on Supreme Judges.

Police echoed with rumors last night that an attempt to bring impeachment proceedings against some justices of the Illinois Supreme court might be launched by the city hall forces when the legislature meets next month.

The decision in which the state Supreme court put the 1919 primary law on the shelf as unconstitutional, thus knocking into a corner the Lundin-Thompson committee elected last spring when the legislature was reported to be in session, was reported to be the last action which the city hall would take to hang action.

William Fox, central figure in the election fraud case which was the basis for invalidating the primary act, was arrested yesterday and taken to state's Attorney Crowe's office. Here, witnesses of the office declared, Fox told him he did not cast the illegal vote which he pleaded guilty, and that the case was a "frameup" to get the primary law before the courts.

Hall Mum on Intentions.

There was much ado, much running to and fro. The hall was silent on its intentions. One rumor was it would wait to have the Supreme bench wipe out the primary decision on the ground that the basic case had been "framed."

Some judges, looking deeper, said the plan of impeachment proceedings was at the bottom. This coincided with inside gossip at Springfield a week or two ago.

One theory was that the hall's action will depend somewhat upon the Supreme court decision in the Olson-Bell case, which is expected today or tomorrow. Olson brought a contest against the late County Judge Thomas P. Scully. The latter died and the case a still-pending, although Judge Richter was elected to fill the vacancy. If the decision favors Olson it would mean the ousting of Ringelheim, which would make it quite intense at the city hall.

Fox Case Starts Action.

The resurrection of the Fox case, however, was regarded as foundation laying for something. Municipal Judge Howard Hayes, Assistant State's Attorney John F. Foster, Attorney Thomas Marshall, detectives, stenographers, and court reporters were summoned to Mr. Crowe's office.

To sketch it briefly, Attorney Marshall had an arrangement with State's Attorney Macley Byrne that on the first primary election fraud case that looked as if it would stand up he should be given a chance to use it as the basis for a legal attack upon the law.

Fox was charged with illegal voting in the Third ward under the name of "William Booth." He pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Judge Hayes to two days in jail and was fined $100. Then through Attorney Marshall the case was appealed on the ground that the law was invalid. The Supreme bench upheld Marshall.

Fox Charges "Frameup."

Fox yesterday charged he pleaded guilty to the charge of Foster and declared he had not voted in the Third ward. He said Foster agreed to dismiss a robbery case pending against him if he would do as directed, and that after pleading guilty he was told Mr. Marshall was his attorney. After he was released, he says, he was given money and told to get out of town.

State's Attorney Crowe refused to discuss the case last night. Mr. Foster, who resigned as an assistant state's attorney yesterday, declared the Fox "frameup" was false.

Statement by Mr. Marshall.

Attorney Thomas Marshall said: "I saved the community from poisoning its own under that primary law and I will do it again tomorrow. I have of the Fox case and went into it solely to test the constitutionality of the law. It cost me $200 of my own money, plus skill and grief."

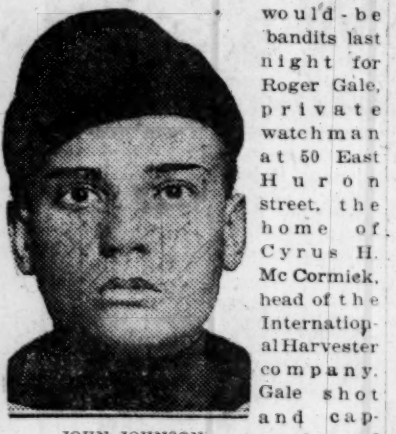

Former State's Attorney Macley Byrne said:

"I am informed that Fox voted twice in the case on which he could attack the validity of the primary law. A voter is a high class lawyer and a man of integrity and spotless reputation. It is absurd to suggest that he would be a party to a plan to present a frameup and perjured case to the Supreme court."

SAILOR BANDIT IS SHOT AT HOME OF C. H. M'CORMICK

3 Companions Driven Off by Watchman.

A deft draw and a lightning trigger finger won a decisive victory over four would-be bandits last night for Roger Gale, private watchman at 50 East Huron street, the home of C. H. M'Cormick, head of the International Harvester company, who shot and captured one of the gang. The others fled.

JOHN JOHNSON.

Gale, a Pinkerton operative, living at 2117 Gladys avenue, was in civilian attire. He was walking past the entrance of the home when the four men approached. One was in sailor's uniform, the other three in United States army uniforms, he said. The sailor thrust a revolver against his heart and said:

"Up with 'em, and up high, or I'll croak you."

Answers Challenge with Shot.

Gale's right hand was in the side pocket of his overcoat, clasp a .32 caliber automatic. He gestured as though to comply with the command, but fired as his hand came level with the sailor's waistline, four inches away. "I'm killed. You double crossed me," he cried, and leaped at Gale, who felled him with a left to the chin.

"You're a disgrace to the uniform," Gale cried. "And you're going to the station."

Pennies Save Sailor's Life.

Gale noticed the East Chicago avenue store. Lieut. John Martin and Detective Sergeants Kemper, Dietz, and Burns of the Silver squad responded with Dr. Thomas A. Lahey, ambulance physician.

It was at first thought he was mortally wounded, but examination by Dr. Lahey at the station emergency ward disclosed his life had been saved by the position of his pocketbook, which was attached to his belt buckle. The bullet struck there and entered the pit of the stomach with such slight velocity that it penetrated but half its length. Dr. Lahey extracted it with his fingers.

The sailor said he was John Johnson, an apprentice seaman at Great Lakes naval station.

"It was my first job," he said. "I wanted a little Christmas spending money. I met three soldiers at Van Buren and State streets and asked them to go along on a little stickup party. I never saw them before. We had a few drinks of moonshine booze. They talked like hard boiled eggs, and I thought they would go through with me."

Johnson is being held at East Chicago avenue station.

TOLEDO THIEVES TOTE AWAY SAFE OF EXPRESS CO.

Toledo, O., Dec. 20.—Six men, armed with shotguns and with the lower part of their faces covered with bandanna handkerchiefs, overpowered ten guards of the American Railway Express company here early tonight and escaped with a safe containing about $16,000 in cash and Liberty bonds.

The holdup took place on Summit street, the city's main business thoroughfare, less than four blocks from police headquarters. The express company guards were conveying the safe on a wheelbarrow to a truck in the rear of the store, preparatory to taking it to Union station, a mile away, for shipment east.

When the guards stepped outside the store the six robbers drove up in two automobiles, loaded the safe into the guards' senses, and escaped.

LOOP HOTEL CUTS WAITERS' WAGES

Pay of Chambermaids Is Also Reduced.

Waiters at the Morrison hotel have been notified their wages will be cut more than 20 per cent after the first of the year. On a bulletin board in the fourth basement a reporter yesterday read the following notice:

Waiters Attention!

On account of the very poor business and the cut in a great number of articles on our menu cards, the management has decided to reduce salaries in proportion. Therefore we have decided to go 50-50 on what you originally received and what you are now getting. We hope none of our employees leave because of the reduction, because we have a great employee organization perfected at the present time.—George Kevel.

Kevel is head waiter in the Terrace Garden restaurant.

$70 a Month and Board.

"We have cut the prices on many things," he said. "Soft drinks that brought 45 cents are now bringing 30 and 60 cents."

"Our waiters are now getting more than at any hotel in the city. We raised them last May from $50 a month and board to $50 a month and board, and now we are willing to split the difference with them. That is, pay them $70."

Harry C. Moir, manager of the hotel, denied any reduction in pay was contemplated as far as the waiters or cooks were concerned.

"We have cut the wages of the chambermaids and dishwashers from $40 a month to $45 and $50," he said. "That was done because the supply is greater now. It is the law of supply and demand. We have 100 applicants a day for jobs. Some of the waiters suggested a willingness to take a cut, but we have done nothing about it as yet."

Union Agent Speaks Up.

Hugo F. Leopold, business agent of the Cooks and Pastry Cooks' association, said any reduction in waiters' wages would be resented by that organization.

"Several conferences have been held between union representatives and Mr. Moir," he said. "A reduction in wages of waiters would mean a decrease later for the other members of the culinary craft."

WORKERS RUN IRON PLANT AS PAY ADJUSTMENT

Newbern, N. C., Dec. 20.—Effective today and for an indefinite period, employees of the Newbern Iron Works and Supply company, one of the largest plants of its kind in eastern North Carolina, are to receive all profits above cost of operation.

This agreement was reached Saturday at a meeting called to discuss a disagreement over a 20 per cent reduction in wages. A suggestion by one of the employees that the workers be permitted to operate the plant and distribute the profits among themselves was adopted by the company.

The new management at once cut salaries of the office force 10 per cent. Recently a 10 per cent wage reduction was followed by a walkout. The men returned, however, but when a second reduction of 10 per cent was announced they conferred with the management and suggested the change in management.

TRUE BILLS HIT 4 NORTH SHORE CITY OFFICIALS

Name 76; Big Booze Ring Charged.

The end of a régime of laxity in Lake county which, it is alleged, has permitted gambling, disorderly resorts, traffic in liquor, and practical immunity to north shore booze thieves, was forecast yesterday when seventy-six indictments were voted by the Lake county grand jury at Waukegan.

Several lieut. col. A. V. SMITH, city officials of Waukegan and North Chicago were hit.

The indictments, which marked the beginning of State's Attorney A. V. Smith's announced campaign to rid Lake county of law breakers, are expected to be followed by an exposure of alleged official protection and graft in connection with the liquor traffic, gambling, and vice. The grand jury's report caused a sensation along the north shore.

Name North Shore Leaders.

Prominent among those indicted are: THOMAS TYRRELL, assistant chief of police at Waukegan, who virtually is chief under the commission plan. "CHAPPEY" TYRRELL, his nephew. FRANK McDERMOTT, brother of Peter McDermott, Waukegan's commissioner of public health and safety, and as such its official police and fire department head.

E. C. MEAD, mayor of North Chicago.

JOHN NELSON, justice of the peace in North Chicago.

RALPH E. HEMMICK, former chief of police in North Chicago.

Thomas Tyrrell, who has been identified with the Waukegan police department for more than thirty-five years, serving as chief for a two year period, has been known throughout his career as a terror to evildoers. Evidence upon which Tyrrell, Mayor Mead of North Chicago, Justice Nelson, and former Chief Hemmick will be tried on charges of misconduct, in office at an early session of the Waukegan Circuit court is said to have been presented by police men and investigators for the state's attorney's office.

Indict Kin of Police.

Forty-two owners of "dry saloons," soft drink parlors, and whisky stills were indicted, as well as eleven alleged gamblers, including "Chappey" Tyrrell, the alleged gambler hit by an indictment was Frank McDermott, brother of Waukegan's commissioner of public health and safety, Peter McDermott.

Former Chief Hemmick of North Chicago was a witness before the grand jury. The system by which, it is alleged, at least twenty North Chicago blind pig owners were brought into court and assessed a uniform fine of $50 each, with the understanding they could continue to operate for a given period, was exposed largely through his testimony, it is said. In many instances it is charged the formality of a trial was dispensed with.

Charge "Graft" System.

The state will contend that the action of the North Chicago mayor, chief and justice of the peace sanctioned open violation of the law by protecting those who paid a certain amount at specified intervals.

Mead has been mayor of North Chicago for the last three years. Hemmick was appointed chief by Mead, but was forced to resign recently when three robbers entered the saloon of Andro Pucin, took his revolver and cash, forced him into the basement and robbed the place of $13,000. John Hepps, indicted for robbery, is charged with being the leader of the band that robbed Pucin's store.

Nip "Midnight Frolics."

Midnight frolics in a resort at Fourth lake, in the Fox lake region, known as "Marie's place," led to the indictment of Grace Marie Paule and Joseph Paule, the proprietors.

State's Attorney Smith formerly was lieutenant colonel of "Reilly's Bucks," the famous 149th artillery of world war fame. He was elected to office upon his return from France. He was assisted in his "drive" by former State's Attorney Ralph J. Dady of Orpet trial fame.

Among the Italian naval garrison only fourteen answered roll call.

The bodies of the commander, several officers, and seventeen sailors have been recovered.

Luckily the wireless station escaped destruction, so that warships were speedily on the spot to give aid.

JOLLY ROBBERS, MERRY VICTIMS, REVIEW HOLDUPS

Gay Time Had as Thieves
Confess 27 Raids.

It was "Old Home Week" last night at Detention Home No. 1, sometimes known as the Hudson avenue police station. The guests were about fifty victims of oil station robberies during the last six months—and Benny Leonard, lightweight pugilistic champion of the world.

The hosts were Lieut. William Shoemaker, his squad of detective sergeants, a police stenographer or two, and half a dozen companions of the late Thomas Heavey, "dope fiend bandit" who killed Policeman Charles R. Conlon last Thursday night at Clark and Randolph streets and was himself slain.

"I Remember, I Remember."

The program last evening was merely a revival of memories—or holdups, Frank Jordan, bandit car driver, and William Bickel, bandit, held the center of the stage. One by one the holdup victims were brought before them.

"Remember him?" Detective Sergeant Michael Grady would ask of Bickel.

"Sure," he was the man we held up at Ogden and Elston avenues. He didn't move fast enough, so Tom (Heavey) clouted him one on the bean with his fist."

"How much did you get from him?" inquired Lieut. Shoemaker.

"Let me think—" the bandit meditated—"It was $34.10, wasn't it?" The victim nodded.

How Oil Man Was Robbed.

"Well, how about this man, Jordan?" was asked as another victim came up.

"Him? Oh, yes—he was sitting on a stool outside the oil station at Fourteenth and Wabash. I drove up to the door. Tom got out and walked to him. 'Get up off your seat,' Tom said to him. He kinda smiled, and didn't move. Then Tom said, 'You get up or I'll blow off your head.' If I remember right, you got up, didn't you?"

"You bet I did," said the victim, "and believe me, I moved quick. Say, that feller had a gun as big as a bat-fish."

One by one the long list was gone over. The majority of the holdups were checked up. Some of them Bickel confessed, in others Jordan was the narrator. Sometimes the bandits even helped their victims in the identification process by recalling snapshots of conversation that took place.

No Hard Feelings.

It was a jolly meeting. Bandits and victims laughed and talked together. There wasn't any animosity. The confessions came spontaneously, generally accompanied by a smile or a laugh as some amusing incident of the holdup was brought to light.

The funniest showup I've ever seen," Lieut. Shoemaker said after it was over. "These birds didn't realize they were swagging themselves into the pen. They sure came through."

Twenty-seven separate crimes formed the basis of the confession. "As each victim left he signed a complaint on his individual case."

Leonard Entertains All.

Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, was there as a guest of Detective Sergeant Mike Grady, an old schoolmate. He chatted and laughed with bandit and victim alike and swapped tales of holdups with tales of ring experiences.

And after it was over the bandits went laughing to their cells—but William La Porte, "dope" addict of nine years' standing. He was taken to the psychopathic hospital.

"Any man who touches the dope is a damn fool," was his laconic comment as he tried with shaking fingers to light a shattered cigar.

U. S. SUES JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER FOR $292,678 ON INCOME TAX

Paid Too Much, Claim of His Agents.

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Alleging that his income tax return for 1915 was "incorrect, misleading, and false," the United States government today brought action in the federal court against John D. Rockefeller Sr. to obtain judgment for $292,678.78, together with a penalty of 5 per cent and interest thereon from June 30, 1916.

The complaint drafted by Prosecutor Holmes alleges that the Rockefeller return failed to include as part of his profits and income for 1915 any part of the 50,104 shares of the capital stock of the Illinois Pipe Line company, or 67,176 shares of the capital stock of the Prairie Pipe Line company, or the value of those shares.

Rockefeller Agents Explain.

Mr. Rockefeller is in the south, but his representatives, in a statement issued tonight, declared the whole matter at issue was the difference between the par and the market value of the stock in question and the right of the government to hold stock dividends as taxable.

The statement explained Mr. Rockefeller, in 1915, received the oil company stock at its pro rata distribution to stockholders, and that under a ruling of the United States treasury department that stock dividends were not taxable the stocks were not included in Mr. Rockefeller's income in his tax return for that year.

Later, when the treasury department changed its ruling the Rockefeller return was revised to include the stocks at their par value and he paid the tax under protest.

Rockefeller Asks Refund.

When the United States Supreme court decided such stock dividends were not taxable, Mr. Rockefeller filed a claim for a refund of the money he paid on the stock dividend in 1917. The department disallowed the claim on the ground that the stock dividends were really dividends paid in property and therefore taxable and that the assessment anyway should have been on the market and not the par value of the stocks.

Frank Jordan, driver of the bandit car used by the Thomas Heavey gang in its raids, shows how E. W. Kiessling was held up. Left to right—Jordan, Detective Sergeant Mike Grady, Detective Sergeant Joseph Roman, Benny Leonard, lightweight pugilistic champion of the world and a spectator at the "confession bee"; Mr. Kiessling.

BRITAIN TURNS ATTENTION TO IDLE WORKMEN

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Doctor Mac Namara, the British labor minister, writing to the building trades federation today outlines part of the government's plan to relieve unemployment by training unskilled former soldiers as bricklayers, slaters, tilers and plasterers.

It also offers to arrange for payment of 50 per cent of wages for time lost through inclement weather up to twenty-two hours weekly and 25 per cent for lost time over that duration.

The federation will hold a meeting after Christmas to consider the offer.

CLARA SMITH TO SURRENDER; BOND PROVIDED

Attorneys Fix the Details with Prosecutor.

Ardmore, Okla., Dec. 20.—[United News.]—All arrangements for the surrender of Clara Smith Hamon, charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon, millionaire oil man, have been made, her attorneys announced tonight.

Arthur Coakley of the law firm of Mathers & Coakley said that preliminary hearings in the case would be waived and that bond would be fixed at $10,000, according to arrangements already made.

The woman is to supply the prosecutor with a sworn plea of her defense and will grant County Attorney Russell Brown one hour for questioning. She will then be at liberty until the case is called, Coakley said.

If this arrangement is carried out the case will not come before the court for months.

County Attorney Brown says he is in possession of practically no evidence that would bring a conviction against the woman.

"In Mexico," Father Says.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 20.—J. L. Smith, father of Clara Smith, wanted in Ardmore, Okla., on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Jake Hamon, today said that he was assured that his daughter was safe in Mexico with his son, James, and that he believed the sister and brother were in Chihuahua City.

"We understand Clara is willing to surrender," he said. "She may come to El Paso, but again she may not. It is most likely that she will surrender in Fort Worth, for her attorneys are there and we have been informed by them that they have arranged for her bond."

"It is a matter of several hours, possibly days, until she will give up," he added.

The father stated that his daughter would plead not guilty, declaring she would contend that she "had nothing to do with the shot or pistol which caused Mr. Hamon's death."

"In Ten Days," Is Promise.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 20.—W. P. McLean Jr., attorney for the family of Clara Smith, said today that the girl was in Mexico and would surrender "within a week or ten days."

Frank Hamon Asks Divorce.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 20.—Frank L. Hamon, nephew of the late Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, filed suit for divorce from Gertrude Ruth Hamon in the Superior court today. Hamon was recently married to Clara Barton Smith.

WASHINGTON NEWS

—IN BRIEF—

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20. The ways and means committee perfected the emergency agricultural high tariff bill and arranged to put it through the house Wednesday. The Democratic steering committee, in the senate decided to subject the bill to prolonged consideration if not open opposition.

Senator Nugent of Idaho and Senator Mark Smith of Arizona are the first of a long line of "name duck" senators to be rewarded, the former receiving today an appointment to the federal trade commission and the latter to the international joint commission, both at salaries of 10,000 a year.

The favorable action of the senate last week on the Poincaré anti-strike bill probably will be rescinded for further debate on the measure. There is almost no possibility of favorable action by the house at this session.

Removal of war-time restrictions against credit transactions with soviet Russia was announced by the treasury department today with the approval of the department of state.

A turnover sales tax was advocated before the house ways and means committee by Meyer D. Rothschild of New York, who estimated the total to be obtained in this manner at $3,000,000,000 annually.

Representative Stevenson of South Carolina introduced a new bill in the house providing for the use of funds in the hands of the alien property custodian to aid in financing exports to Germany and Russia.

J. A. Harris May Take Hamon's Place in Politics

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 20.—James A. Harris of Wagoner, Republican state chairman, was recommended by the Republican state central committee here late today to succeed the late Jake L. Hamon of Ardmore as national committeeman from Oklahoma. Mrs. Hamon, the widow, received some votes, but Harris was elected.

U. S. BOARD CITES 7 CAUSES FOR DROP IN GRAIN

Much Future Trading Is
"Mere Gambling."

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.
When is the grain speculator a "gambler in the pit"? What part of speculation is beneficial as a "hedging" agency; what part is deleterious as putting prices on a Monte Carlo basis?

In these questions the marketing problem parades a dual personality, economic and ethical. One school says a hedged bet is a Dr. Jekyll, while a deal in "futures" not to hedge actual holdings is a Mr. Hyde. An opposite school says speculation is not "gambling" any more than a flyer in real estate. "Speculation is based on calculation," it says, "while gambling is based on chance. Error says that speculation is gambling."

Yesterday the interest of the grain trade centered largely in the special report made to President Wilson by the federal trade commission. It said: "While evidence is not available that future trading is responsible for the decline in wheat prices, it does not appear that future trading in wheat at present operating is of indisputable service to the grain trade."

Seven Causes for Drop.
The commission, after remarking that the slump in wheat prices "would appear to be in part due to country-wide and world-wide conditions," lists seven specific causes for the drop in prices:

The outlook for an increased world supply.

Concentrated buying by foreign governments last spring and stock purchases later.

"Unprecedented" importations from Canada, following "an unprecedented yield and a discount in rate of exchange."

The record breaking yield of corn in this country.

The slackening of demand for flour.

The general tendency towards commodity declines.

The change in credit conditions "with resulting disposition of distributors to refrain from accumulating usual stocks."

Ordered by President Wilson.

The investigation was made on instruction of President Wilson in October after Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas had urged that Canadian wheat imports be barred and steps be taken to stabilize the wheat market. The commission says it withheld its opinion on trading in "futures" for extended treatment in a report which it has had under preparation for more than three years.

"Future contracts may have a legitimate use for 'hedging,'" it says. "In this connection it is claimed that future trading performs an insurance function where ordinary insurance methods would not be practicable and that undue restriction of future trading such as would deprive the grain trade of this service might result in grain dealers requiring larger margins and consequently result in lower prices to the farmer or higher prices to the consumer."

Large Volume "Mere Gambling."

"Without now expressing an opinion on this subject it appears that there is a large volume of future trading that is mere gambling, and involves a great economic waste. The remedy for this lies in congressional action to prevent trading which is essentially gambling."

"A limitation of the volume of open speculative trades in wheat, similar to the limitations placed on corn speculation during the period of government control, would probably tend to reduce the possibility of manipulative trading."

The commission says the president has no power to bar wheat imports, but under the Lever act he has power to stop future trading in wheat.

In the grain trade the Capper bill is receiving widespread discussion. The idea of the Kansas senator is to tax grain speculation out of business. The bill recognizes the value of "hedging" and permits the holder or handler of actual grain to deal in futures, free of tax, up to three times the quantity of grain handled during the year.

Over this there is furious debate. The grain exchanges say the curtailment would destroy the hedging system itself, because this rests upon a vast volume of speculative buying and selling which makes a constant and open market. They argue it would tend to engender monopoly.

BARE TELEGRAMS IN U. S. QUIZ ON WHEAT DECLINE

Telegrams from Leslie F. Gates, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, and Victor Murdock, chairman of the federal trade commission, were given out yesterday in an attempt to refute the charge made by the commission in its report to President Wilson that the board had given it no assistance in investigating the wheat decline.

Trades of individuals and corporations in hedging sales were asked by Mr. Murdock. Mr. Gates' telegrams said this information is the private property of the individual traders, and the board had no right to ask for it or give it to the commission. This did not satisfy the commission, and it asked that the short and long open interest of 100,000 bushels or more in each wheat future be ascertained, and inquired whether such traders were "hedgers." The board of trade said it was simply a meeting place for traders and kept no records of transactions, and suggested the commission ask for data direct from the individual traders.

Mr. Murdock replied this could not be done in a reasonable time, and Mr. Gates sent back word the only statement called for by the board since open trading was resumed was on Aug. 31, adding that he would "gladly come to Washington if you desire a conference."

HARD BATTLE
FARMERS'
BILL FOR

Democrats Opp
High Tariff

BY ARTHUR SEARS
Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—The farmers relief bill, a high protective tariff revision, will be put through Wednesday under a new amendment to the proposed duties.

The disposition of the bill was indicated by the Democratic steering committee, which decided that some of the amendments to the bill would be made to the measure.

Only Two Urgent
Senator Simmons, Nebraska, said that, in his opinion, the bill was one of the most important of the session. He said it was the only one that the Republican program for protective tariff.

Expressions from Democratic members made it appear of the fact that a tariff solution of the difficulties of the cotton raisers of the south was the only one that the Republican program for protective tariff.

It seems a certainty, enough Democratic members will vote for the bill. The passage in the lower house is the fate in the senate is in doubt. The ways and means committee has made a few additions to the bill, and the Senate will vote on it Saturday. The bill was added, at the instance of Senator Kahn, California, 15 cents per pound for protection domestic growers of cotton from Sicily. The bill was increased from 10 cents per gallon.

Compensatory duties on woolens and long manufactures were added. The rates agreed upon, together with the entire therefrom follow:

Commodities: Wheat, bushel, 10 cents; Corn, bushels, 10 cents; Beans, pound, 10 cents; Peas, pound, 10 cents; Potatoes, bushel, 10 cents; Onions, bushel, 10 cents; Rice, cleaned, pound, 10 cents; Rice, uncleaned, pound, 10 cents; Flour, meal, and broken, 10 cents; Rice, pound, 10 cents; Rice, uncleaned, pound, 10 cents.

HARD BATTLE ON FARMERS' RELIEF BILL FORECAST

Democrats Opposed to High Tariff Wall.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—The farmers relief bill, providing a high protective tariff on agricultural products pending complete tariff revision, will be put through the house on Wednesday under a special rule allowing three hours debate and limiting amendments to changes in the proposed duties.

The disposition of a considerable number of Democrats in the senate to support the bill was indicated by action of the Democratic steering committee, which decided that inasmuch as high tariff rates are applied to a considerable number of commodities, efforts should be made to cause the senate finance committee to give full consideration to the measure.

Only Two Urgent Items.
Senator Simmons, North Carolina, ranking Democratic finance committee member, said that, in his opinion, only two items in the bill—wheat and wool—were of an emergency character. He would seek to have the Republicans prove the necessity of each proposition in the bill.

Senator Harrison, Mississippi, attacked the bill on the floor of the senate. He said it was the beginning of a Republican program for the high protective tariff.

Expenditures from Democrats in both houses made it appear that because of the fact that a tariff bill offers no solution of the difficulties with which southern cotton raisers are confronted, the alliance between southern and western members, which has made possible the passage of the resolution regarding the war finance corporation, will be broken up.

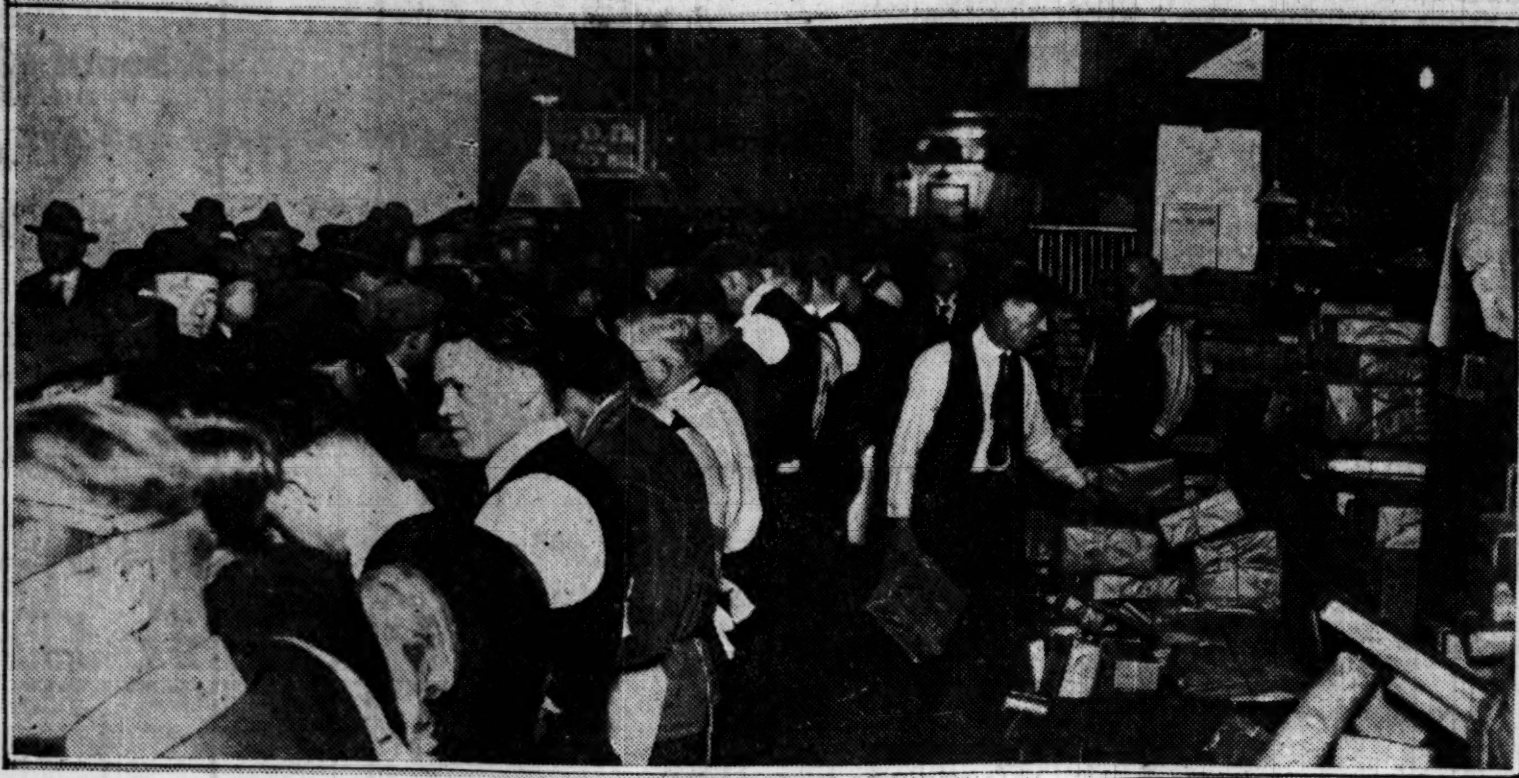

Certain to Pass, Belief.
It seems a certainty, however, that enough Democratic members of the senate will vote for the bill to make its passage in the lower branch assured. Its fate in the senate is more doubtful. The ways and means committee made a few additions to the tariff bill at work out on Saturday. Lemons were added, at the instance of Representative Kahn, California, a duty of 10 cents per pound being provided to protect domestic growers against imports from Sicily. The duty on peanuts was increased from 20 to 25 cents per gallon.

Compensatory duties on manufactured wools and long staple cotton manufactures were added.

Proposed New Rates.

TOYLAND CIRCUS GIVES CLUB FUND FOR NEW YEAR

The Christmas Tree Festival and Toyland Circus at the Coliseum is such a success, it has been booked for next season by Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman for the Red, White and Blue club. Mrs. Coleman, who is chairman of the club directors and general chairman of the festival and circus, announced last night that already a sufficient sum was assured to run the club another year and have a comfortable surplus.

"This means," she said, "that between 300 and 400 children are kept off the streets and taught to be good American citizens."

Two hundred crippled children of the Spaulding school were guests of the management yesterday afternoon.

Each received a bag of candy and a toy. Miss Jane Cowl opened the performance.

"Future Trading" Criticized.
Future trading in grain exchanges is criticized in a report from the federal trade commission to President Wilson, made public today.

The investigation was asked by the president following charges by Gov. Allen of Kansas and others that manipulations on the Chicago Board of Trade and excessive importations of wheat from Canada had caused the decline in wheat prices.

While refraining from a sweeping condemnation, the report declares that "there is a large volume of future trading that is mere gambling and involves a great economic waste."

SOUTHERN CHINA RESENTS PEKIN'S FOREIGN LOANS

SHANGHAI, Dec. 20.—Despite the recent unification mandate issued by the president of China, the northern and southern factions seem to be drifting farther and farther apart.

Sun Yat Sen, the head of the Constitutional party who recently assumed control of the southern government located at Canton, has telegraphed to Pekin demanding the dismissal of all military men, the withdrawal of the unification mandate and that Pekin refrain from contracting more foreign loans. Pekin officials say the demands are impossible.

Japan has been notified that either the people of China nor the Pekin government can be responsible for any loans made by the Japanese to the southerners.

Three hours of argument by members of the city council finance committee yesterday failed to result in action which assures the payment of the January city payrolls, amounting to nearly $3,000,000.

City Treasurer Stuckart laid down the law to the committeemen in no uncertain terms. He announced he would accept no L. O. U. paper unless duly authorized by law, and declared he will not permit money in special or sinking funds to be used to meet payrolls unless the repayment of such money is assured by passage of a budget on or before Jan. 31.

"My term expires in April and my affairs must be in shipshape" offered when his successor takes office," Mr. Stuckart said. "I will take no chances."

Usual Talkfest, Richert Says.
A half dozen suggestions were made and the committee lost itself in debate and parliamentary tangles. When the session broke up each suggestion had been voted down, and Ald. Richert, the chairman, said:

"This happens every year. The committee must do so much talking before it will get down to work. In a few days it will be ready to adopt my advice that a rudimentary budget be formulated and passed so that money can be borrowed on anticipation tax warrants."

A suggestion by Ald. Schwartz that Mayor Thompson be authorized to appoint a committee to devise a way out of the city's financial difficulties was voted down, 7 to 6.

Boosters' Aid Voted Down.

Ald. A. A. McCormick's request that the executive committee of the Chicago Boosters' club be called in to tell him the $5,000,000 deficit is to be made up, got the votes of Ald. Fisher, Wallace, Captain, and McCormick, but Ald. Schwartz, Woodhull, Crowe, Lipps, S. F. Smith, Moran, A. O. Anderson, Kostner, and Clark voted in the negative.

Ald. Woodhull's motion to disregard the city's revenue and make a budget based on the "requirements" of the city went down to defeat by a 7 to 6 vote. Ald. Clark's motion to prepare a list of the city's financial needs for submission to the state legislature, along with a request for financial relief, was lost by the same vote.

BANK FAILS IN LONDON; MONEY CRISIS EXPECTED

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Farrow's bank suspended payment this morning.

A great crowd of small tradesmen and poor people surrounded the head office of the bank in Cheapside today, but there was no disorder. The board of trade issued a statement tonight saying the failure was due to losses through trading, but said errors of the management extending over a series of years were not the particular cause for suspension at the present time.

Farrow's bank had seventy-five branches, of which twenty-one are in London. Its deposits total about $4,000,000. It is not known yet how much the loss will be. The paid up capital is £350,000 in £1 shares, liable to further call of 10 shillings per share.

A crisis in financial conditions in London is expected this week which probably will clear up all rumors of a coming smash. So far as I can ascertain, one big Mincing Lane produce firm dealing in rubber, sugar, and coffee is said to be in trouble, with a million pounds liabilities. Its failure, if it is not averted, may drag down a dozen smaller firms.

One small new bank, doing a purely commercial business, is also said to be in trouble, but the general banking situation is sound and manufacturing is on a better basis than it was some months ago.

Some large retailers are not taking advantage of discounts, but this is due to the fact that excess profits and duty payments fall due on Jan. 1. The retailers report good Christmas trade and expect a stronger position after New Year.

BANK OWNER ARRESTED.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—According to the Daily Mail, Thomas Farrow was arrested at his home in St. Leonard's, Sussex, at midnight. The physicians who were attending him certified that Mr. Farrow was too ill to be removed and therefore two constables were placed in his home.

DEATH'S BRIDAL

Honeymoon Couple Found Dead in Little Flat Under Mysterious Circumstances.

Mrs. Marcella Muellemier.

W. P. Muellemier.

A CHEERY fire still burned in the stove. The remnants of a hearty Sunday dinner lay on the table. The new furniture still shone as if it had just been polished. The Christmas packages had all been safely hidden where the recipient never would find them before the proper time.

On the new couch in the dining room Paul Muellemier sat with his bride of two weeks, Marcella. Both were dead.

The bodies were found in the little honeymoon flat at 440 Kemper place yesterday afternoon. A friend came to call, could get no answer to the bell, and applied to the landlady, Mrs. Rose Langkau. She had not seen the couple since Sunday morning.

The police broke into the apartment. They believe fumes from the stove asphyxiated the bride and bridegroom. But they are also investigating the presence of a small phial, found on the floor near the couch. It was unlabeled.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The "lame duck" parade of 1920-21 began today. HARDING TALKS U. S. ECONOMY WITH C. G. DAWES

Chicagoan May Be Made Housecleaner.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Dec. 20.—(Special.)—Gen. Charles G. Dawes of Chicago came to Marion today at the invitation of President E. H. Harding to discuss the reorganization of government departments at Washington and business lines. If Gen. Dawes is appointed secretary of the treasury, he probably will be asked by Mr. Harding to carry out the task of cleaning up the Washington stable. Herbert Hoover has been slated for the head of the special commission which Mr. Harding intends to create for this purpose, but it is becoming more apparent that Mr. Hoover will become a member of the cabinet. The appointment of Gen. Dawes to this post would leave the treasury portfolio open to George M. Reynolds, former Senator from Ohio, or Charles D. Hilles, Frank O. Wymore, President of the First National bank of Chicago, has also been mentioned recently in this connection.

Finances Effort for Economy.

Gen. Dawes said he talked with Mr. Harding on the reduction of government expenses and its relation to the economy. "I found that Senator Harding already knew more than I did concerning this," he said, "and that the effort to reorganize the government upon an economical basis is one of the tasks to which he proposes to devote himself most energetically. From conversation with him it is evident that he has a great and needed reform constantly in his mind. Considering that here there no continued and firm effort has been made, this determination of the president elect to make this reform one of his first efforts, means that it will be accomplished. If it is, and the people of the country are relieved of a large part of the present enormous burden of taxation, it means that the chief obstacle in the way of a resumption of normal business activity is removed."

Another ex-service man in conference today with Mr. Harding was Brig. Gen. W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad. He came with Gov. William C. Snyder. Business and railroad conditions were discussed, also the Pennsylvania situation in regard to patronage, and possibly cabinet appointments.

Callers Are Numerous.

Harry Wallace of Des Moines, a strong candidate for the secretaryship of agriculture, was with Mr. Harding for an hour. "The situation of the middle western farmers is very serious," he said. "Tenant farmers are in many cases simply refusing to carry on their operations. They cannot carry the loss any longer. Senator Harding has an excellent understanding of this agricultural crisis. I am confident his administration is going to accomplish much good."

Senator John Shields of Tennessee, one of the Democratic irreconcilables, talked with Mr. Harding and afterward said he believed, from the way

BOOZE

Left to right—Justice John Nelson, North Chicago; Ralph E. Hemmick, former North Chicago chief of police; Thomas Tyrrell, assistant chief of police and for more than thirty-five years a police official of Waukegan. They were indicted with seventy-three others in a cleanup of alleged booze protection and graft inaugurated by State's Attorney A. V. Smith, formerly lieutenant colonel of "Reddy's Bucks," the famous 149th Field artillery.

Senator Harding is working, there is a good chance of producing something with safety. He would favor an international court and codification of laws to the court to have jurisdiction in all justiciable questions. Other questions may be arbitrated and he would favor treaties providing for a conference of nations where all might be heard.

Talks with Senate Successor.

The question of Mr. Harding's early resignation from the senate was the subject of a brief conference between him and Senator Elect Frank B. Willis, whom Gov. Cox has offered to appoint to the vacancy. It was said no decision was reached.

6 New Cases of Smallpox Are Found in Oak Park

Six new cases of smallpox have developed in Oak Park since Friday, bringing the total up to fifteen. It was announced last night by Dr. Frank Needham, health commissioner of the suburb. The closing of the schools Friday for the Christmas holidays will prevent a further spread of the disease, Dr. Needham believes.

ROBBERS SNUB "RECEPTION."

Six detective sergeants beat a merry tattoo with their feet yesterday in front of the store of the Charles Moe company, pawnshop on West Adams street, waiting several hours for holdup men who never showed up. Charles Moe had received a mysterious telephone call telling him four bandits would invade his place at noon.

GUNS FORCE DRY AGENTS TO DRAIN GLASSES QUICKLY

Booze Sellers Take No Chances on Tricks.

Gone are the good old days when a man could plant his feet on the bar rail and quaff his whiskey slowly. Prohibition agents, armed with concealed hot water bottles for carrying away evidence, have placed cabaret owners who sell booze up against a new proposition.

Unless they see the whisky drunk they are never certain they will not be haled before Judge Landis. District Attorney Clynne announced yesterday that some cabaret men have solved the problem by arming waiters with revolvers, and forcing patrons to drink their booze to the last drop as soon as served.

Cries an Instance.

"It may sound ridiculous," said Mr. Clynne, "but it's true. I am told that two agents were sent to a certain cabaret to gather evidence. They called for a drink. When they dined over their purchase the waiter sidled up with a revolver in his hand. 'Drink it, you—' he said, 'or I'll blow your heads off.'"

Dry New Year Decried.

Chicago is to be dry during the holidays, according to Mr. Clynne and Frank D. Richardson, supervising prohibition agent.

Agents will be posted throughout the loop, in cabarets, and at entrances of all drinking places to look out for hipsters. Mr. Clynne said, "Special attention will be paid to places on the owners of which injunction orders have been served. Persons caught drinking in such places can be sentenced to one year in jail."

Mr. Richardson said he has asked Washington for fifty additional agents for the holiday period.

Mayor E. C. Mead of North Chicago, also indicted.

PARK YOUR AUTO 30 MINUTES FOR ANOTHER MONTH

The thirty minute auto parking ordinance was given a month's lease on life yesterday when the council legal transportation committee voted to postpone all action on the parking question for that length of time. Meanwhile Chief Fitzmorris will attempt to enforce the present ordinance to the letter and at the end of a month will report to the committee on the advisability of repealing the no parking ordinance which was reconsidered last Wednesday at Mayor Thompson's suggestion.

The Committee Turned Down All Suggested Amendments to the No Parking Measure.

It approved the suggestion of Ald. A. O. Kostner that vehicles be prohibited from turning around in all loop streets. Commissioner of Public Service Reid was directed to confer with street car officials on Ald. Adamkiewicz's order that children on their way to school be carried for half fare. At next Wednesday's meeting the committee will take up the question of abolishing skip stops on the surface lines.

W. H. TAFT WILL TALK AT DINNER OF B'NAI B'RITH

An address on anti-Semitism will be delivered by former President William Howard Taft at the B'nei B'rith celebration at Hotel La Salle Thursday evening, Dec. 23, under the auspices of B'nei B'rith lodge, the largest B'nei B'rith lodge in the world.

In conference with A. B. Seelenfreund, grand secretary of the lodge, and Leonard J. Grossman, Mr. Taft went over the anti-Semitic attacks of Henry Ford, Tom Watson, and others in this country, as well as the anti-Jewish outbreak in Europe.

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, O., and Rabbi Eugene Mannheimer of Des Moines, Ia., will be other prominent guests at the banquet. The B'nei B'rith is not a secret order, but one of the foremost philanthropic organizations of the Jewish people.

PRO AND CON OF JANITORS' CASE GIVEN ARBITER

Chief of Police Fitzmorris, arbiter of the threatened flat janitors' strike, went home last night with a fat document under each arm.

One folder contained a brief signed by James J. Carroll, representing the renting division of the Chicago real estate board. It was packed with reasons why the janitors' request for approximately $1 more a flat should not be granted. It asked that the pay of janitors be cut approximately $1 a flat. The other folder, presented by William Carroll and Quesse, feared what might drive home their points by argument. This the chief cut short.

"There will be no hearings, public or private," he said. "Everything must be in writing. If I want any more data than I have I will call in the representative from whom I want more information."

This provoked more argument. Both Carroll and Quesse feared what might follow a private conference between the other side and the arbiter. Chief Fitzmorris finally settled this point by promising that if one side is called in, the other will be notified.

HAITIANS A BLEND OF KINDNESS AND JUNGLE FEROCITY

Yield to Smiles Where Armed Force Fails.

BY EYE WITNESS.

ST. MARC, Haiti, Dec. 3.—[By Mail.]—Even seeing is not believing in this wild, fantastical land.

This is because the native will one time surrender to his frantic passions, especially if he be one in a mass, and another time, perhaps within the same half hour, he will make himself entertaining by playing what he thinks or suspects you would like to see.

Also, if he be of the inferior class, he is pretty sure to think that what the white man does on a given occasion is the right thing to do, or at least the appropriate.

Amid this smallpox epidemic we are all being vaccinated—and revaccinated. I may add, for the points sent to the officers from the states seem to be inferior for the proportion of "takes" is not what it should be.

She Was Stole; So Were They.
A Belgian woman sent for her servants to be vaccinated with her. When the physician reached her villa, they observed that she did not wince when the point was thrust beneath her skin and they took the puncture with equal equanimity.

"This was not due to their relative lack of sensitiveness to pain," the woman's husband said, "for if Gabrielle had wined or cried out the house would have rung with their shrieks."

In short, the Haitian is precisely like this capital of his, with its tottering hovels within the shadow of its huge flamboyant cathedral, its women bathing naked within sight of the sentries around the presidential palace, and its

Sues for Daughter

Ralph S. Von Valkenburg, having failed to obtain the custody of his daughter, Lucile, a child 8 years old, by kidnapping her, has sought the aid of the courts.

Through Attorney T. Fred Larnie, Lucile is attempting to regain the custody of the child on a writ of habeas corpus. His sister, Mrs. Mabel Mackel, 6508 Lowe avenue, is contesting the suit.

Von Valkenburg and his daughter, it is said, lived with Mrs. Mackel until two weeks ago.

French villas worthy of St. Quentin, but from the long windows of which LUCILE VON VALKENBURGH, daughter of Ralph S. Von Valkenburg, who has sought the aid of the courts to regain custody of her.

you see vistas which could be pictured in an encyclopedia as "Typical Native Village in the Congo."

Rare Contrasting Types.
In your walks, however brief, and they will be brief in this heat, you see the Haitian of the squatting posture with his numerous and naked family gathered with him round the single bowl from which all partake, and you see the suave, informed Haitian who swings his cane like a Parisian dandy and can intelligently discuss international politics.

The complexity of almost every Haitian situation is due in part to the fact that the squatting Haitian and the Haitian who would pass muster on the boulevards frequently manifest each other's qualities.

In fact, the Haitian in the mass is a curious but not mystifying combination of valor and jabber, of fidelity and childish petulance, of fortitude and helplessness, and of gentleness and ferocity.

Can't Handle His Liberty.
He has fought and bled for liberty and won it, but in its practical application liberty means nothing truly beneficent in his scheme of life, because he has no sense of the reciprocal obligation which liberty involves.

The Haitian's punctilio is acute, even among the humble people. To call a man a liar is a deadly insult. Instead of that, you must say, "You are speaking lies." He will shrug his shoulders and reply, "What else could I say?" Furthermore, if you lie to a Haitian you might as well get off the island, yet he will cheerily lie to you.

To say, "Be quiet," or "Shut up," to a noisy servant is a violation of his personal liberty and he will reply, "In a free country we have a right to talk."

Smiles Win Natives.
These people cannot be driven, but they can be managed into doing almost anything. A smile and a hearty, friendly word are gold coin in this island.

There is an American up St. Marc way who early in his work among the Haitians said, "Whatever they do I'll smile. Just smile however much they roll me."

He is big and burly and deep voiced, but the old women resting along the road lift their withered arms and cry, "Oh, mon petit!" when Lisle of the railroad company gets back to the island from New York after one of his conferences with Farnum of the National City bank.

Resumé of Temperaments.
These notes on Haitian characteristics which I have picked up from many white persons long resident in the republic probably over-emphasize the worst and weakest phases of the national character and do not sufficiently stress their fidelity to the firm master, who, if he is self-respecting, also commands their respect, their civility, which is spontaneous and fine, and their trustfulness, which is so unquestioning that it is a wicked deed to betray it.

And today the attitude toward them of those who know them best is "After all, I like them and I like Haiti." So do I.

PLAN SUBW TO TAP TW WEST SIDE

Mayor Approves Traction Bo

Plans of Mayor Thompson for the construction of a subway system and the local transportation district by five trustees, were approved yesterday at the City of Chicago. Mayor Thompson met with the trustees and was satisfied with the plan. The plan is to build a subway from Madison street to the city hall, with a main tunnel under Madison street and a branch under the city hall.

Recommended Two
George W. Jackson, the subway engineer, recommends the plan to the five trustees.

The plan approved by the trustees includes tubes beneath the city hall, Logan Square, Ogden boulevard, tapping park district. Under the plan, which will probably be for the information of the city council, the trustees would be built beneath the city hall, from Lawrence avenue street, with a main tunnel under Madison street and a branch under the city hall.

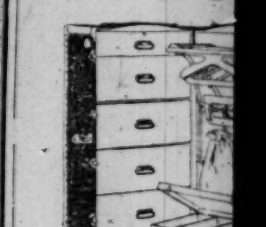

Legislative Action
Under the procedure of the commission, the trustees will report to the mayor. He will then report to the city council with a recommendation. The plan will be approved and sent to the legislature for the enabling act to permit the construction of the district.

Gasoline Tax Ordinance Is Killed by

Without a record vote, the revenue commission yesterday rejected a proposed ordinance requiring motorists to pay a tax of a gallon to the city. The ordinance was proposed by the city council and was intended to place the ordinance on the city's books.

PLAN SUBWAYS TO TAP TWO BIG WEST SIDE AREAS

Mayor Approves Work of Traction Board.

Plans of Mayor Thompson's traction commission for the construction of a subway system and the creation of a local transportation district governed by five trustees, were completed at an executive session of the commission held yesterday at the Congress hotel.

Mayor Thompson met with the commission and is said to have put his qualified O. K. on the eight months' work of the commission's lawyers and engineers. The plans go to the printer today and are expected to be in the mayor's hands before the end of the week.

Recommended Two Plans.
George W. Jackson, the commission's chief engineer, recommended two subway plans to the five commissioners.

The plan approved by the commission includes tubes beneath Milwaukee avenue to Logan Square and beneath Ogden boulevard tapping the Douglas park district. Under the other scheme, which will probably be submitted for the information of the city council, eighteen miles of subways would be built beneath Ashland avenue from Lawrence avenue to Sixty-third street, with a main tube to the loop under Madison street or Washington boulevard.

Legislative Action Needed.
Under the procedure mapped out, the commission will submit its report to the mayor. He will send it to the city council with a request that it be approved and sent to the state legislature for the enabling laws necessary to permit the creation of a transportation district.

Gasoline Tax Ordinance
Is Killed by Aldermen

Without a record vote the council revenue commission yesterday killed a proposed ordinance requiring dealers in gasoline to pay a tax of half a cent a gallon to the city. Representatives of automobile clubs and garage owners declared such a tax would be "passed on" to the motorists by the gasoline dealers. Ald. Cermak made the motion to place the ordinance on file.

Taylor-Made Wardrobe Trunks at $75

The advantage of a Taylor-Made gift lies in the fact that it is always useful.

The Wardrobe Trunk illustrated is one of exceptional value; made of three-ply basswood. Veneer boxes lined and interlined with vulcanized fiber and binding and cross bands of extra heavy fiber. Washable keratol lined; equipped with ten garment hangers for Men or Women. A limited number.

HEARING NEWS

Professor's Wife, Heroine of
"Icebox Romance," Arguments on Whose Divorce Bill Are Slated for Jan. 17.

MRS. CYRUS E. PALMER.

THE divorce action that followed the "icebox romance," in which the wife of a professor at the University of Illinois and a butcher of Champaign, Ill., were named as the leading characters, advanced a stage yesterday. Judge Sabath of the Superior court set Jan. 17 as the date for hearing arguments in the case of Mrs. Sylvia C. Palmer against Prof. Cyrus E. Palmer.

Mrs. Palmer asked a divorce after her husband had accused her of having clandestine meetings with Carl A. Carlson, the butcher. When she attempted to win a decree here, Attorney Robert P. Burkhalter, counsel for Prof. Palmer, attacked the jurisdictional rights of the Chicago courts to try the case, on the ground she had not been a resident for a year prior to filing the suit.

Mrs. Palmer's attorneys yesterday acknowledged error and asked leave to amend the papers to read that she had lived in the state for a year prior to starting suit.

YULETIDE GLOOM OF NEAR EAST IS LIGHTED BY U. S.

VENICE, Dec. 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—The American fleet in the Adriatic will act as Santa Claus for more than 20,000 persons, including Italian and Russian children, the latter being among the refugees recently disembarked along the Dalmatian coast. The beneficiaries will receive toys, candy, fruit, clothing, and shoes. The Russian children just landed in Dalmatia with their fathers and mothers, who escaped the bolshevik sweep in south Russia, suffered intolerable hardships on the voyage. They were packed in the ships so tightly as to be unable to move, with hundreds in the holds among the coal and other supplies, standing or sitting in virtually the same position for twenty days. As no provision had been made for their arrival in Dalmatia the American fleet undertook the work of caring for them.

JAPANESE PRESS DISCUSSES NAVY PLAN OF BORAH

TOKIO, Dec. 20.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Japanese press is manifesting great interest in the proposal of Senator Borah of Idaho for a tripartite naval agreement under which the United States, Great Britain and Japan would pledge themselves to limitation of naval armaments. In general, the newspapers favor the idea, but regard Japan's present program as a legitimate one.

Present Policy "Suicidal."

In expressing strong approval of the proposal made in the United States senate by Senator Borah, the Mainichi Shimbun of Osaka compares Japan's yearly expenditures of 10,000,000 yen for teachers' salaries with the 500,000,000 yen naval expenditure. It declares the present rate of expenditure for the navy is suicidal and that it is the duty of statesmanship to remove the causes which necessitate such large armaments.

Of the Tokyo papers, the Jiji Shimbun expresses the hope that the United States senate will pass the Borah resolution as a means of relieving the world from a fresh outbreak or rivalry in armaments. Japan's eight battleships and eight battle cruiser program is not a menace to peace, this newspaper insists, but America's intention to have the first navy in the world, it says, will cause England to expand her building and lead to a new race in naval enlargement.

All Right "Eventually."

The Nichi Nichi Shimbun holds that Japan's geographical and international position does not permit her to indulge in disarmament, but that eventually the world situation will necessitate a naval agreement.

The present policies of the governments, it thinks, should pave the way to this end. If the United States reduces her armaments the others will follow, says this journal, and it argues that the responsibility for disarmament rests upon America.

CHICAGOAN FINDS WIFE MANACLED BY N.Y. MURDERER

Middle Class and Prune Juice Incommiscible.

BY SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE.

(United News.)
New York, Dec. 20.—Emma Brooks, wife of a Chicago insurance man, John Walter Brooks, her husband, belongs to that great group of middle class "respectable" women, not overdressed, not undressed, not of the Broadway type. She is a woman who might see any Sunday morning her children into church.

Mrs. Brooks stepped out of the class respectability long enough to be in the brightest of New York's most unassuming limelight. She is held in material witness in the killing of Lieutenant Floyd Horton, who was in a Broadway gun battle. She was the companion of three men who were shot to death from the death from a car. She was herself wounded.

Her husband met her for the first time since the affray in the criminal court building, while she was on her way to the district attorney's office. She was handcuffed to one of the other members of the murder car quartet. The handcuffs hurt her wounded arm, but her husband told her he would have the handcuffs off, and that she would go home.

The whole world tragedy came about in this way:
Mr. Brooks was in Chicago. He had called upon Kavanagh, superintendent of the apartment house where Mrs. Brooks lived to look after her. Kavanagh suggested a party. Nicholas and Joe Lersch, two friends of Kavanagh, were along.

They went to the Tenderloin—one of the "soft drink" places where, if you are known, you can get prune juice doctored into something resembling whisky. They had several drinks and then went to One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, where they had more.

Nightmare of Death.
Then, coming downtown, it all happened. Joe Lersch stopped the car and went into an apartment house. Mrs. Brooks says she was "pretty well alone" by this time. She remembers seeing several shots. She remembers something hitting her arm. Then, she felt everything went black.

It was during this time that her companion, halted in an attempted entry of an apartment house at which she and her husband were waiting and pursued by Lieut. Horton, who finally leaped to the running board of their car, unlimbered their arms.

Born fell from the car, mortally wounded. As he lay in the street, lying, he pulled a slip of paper from his pocket and made a note of the number of the car.

The police took Horton's notes, and inside of six hours Nicholas Lersch, Kavanagh, and Mrs. Brooks were behind the bars.

Mr. Brooks was in a hospital in Chicago when he got the news. He broke his physician's orders and hastened to New York to help his wife.

OPEN FIGHT ON GUGGENHEIMS, "COPPER KINGS"

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—A campaign for the votes of stockholders of the American Smelting and Refining company for the purpose of ousting the Guggenheim family from control of the corporation at the annual meeting in April began today.

Karl Eilers, former senior vice president of the company and son of Anton Eilers, one of the founders, asked a writ of mandamus to compel David A. Crockett, transfer agent of the company at 120 Broadway, to permit him to inspect the stock lists and take the names of the 19,000 stockholders. The case was put on the Supreme court calendar for argument Wednesday. The petition filed for Mr. Eilers as leges he holds and controls 3,538 shares, while at the time of the last election the total holdings of the directors was 6,089 shares of preferred stock and 1,291 of common. It is estimated that the company has 500,000 shares of preferred and 809,980 shares of common outstanding.

The mandamus suit is based on the refusal of the transfer agent to permit Mr. Eilers to inspect the stock books on Dec. 21 last.

Mr. Eilers charges enormous losses through gambling in copper, due to the sale of futures on a rising market and the withholding of a large quantity of copper from sale during the last year when the market was falling.

A letter from Simon Guggenheim, president, to Mr. Eilers on March 31, 1920, demanding his resignation, and one from Mr. Eilers to Mr. Guggenheim making a similar demand, are attached to the petition.

It is charged further that in 1910 Edgar L. Newhouse and Judd Stewart, directors, reported an opportunity to enter tin mining in Bolivia, and the company, "with the consent of the Messrs. Guggenheim," so says the petition, spent considerable money in a thorough investigation of this proposition.

"Upon the report of this investigation," Eilers asserts, "coming in, the Messrs. Guggenheim opposed any action relative to the proposition. Thereafter the son of Murry and Daniel Guggenheim, representing Guggenheim brothers, the Messrs. Guggenheim's partnership, were permitted to examine the report of the investigation on file with this company, and hereupon Guggenheim brothers sent representatives to Bolivia and have since engaged in large tin mining operations there."

"A demand by certain of the directors of the corporation that it be allowed to share in such operations was refused by the Messrs. Guggenheim."

Tells Reason for Delay.
Mr. Eilers states that he did not take the present action earlier because "the dominance of the Guggenheim interests was a matter of development and reached its climax only just prior to my removal as director and officer."

Mr. Eilers says he hoped to obtain a correction of the situation through the influence of himself and his fellow directors, H. A. Prosser, Edgar L. Newhouse, Judd Stewart, W. S. Morse, and John M. MacGowan, but Mr. Newhouse and Mr. Prosser were "silenced" by being made chairman of the board and vice president, respectively, while Mr. Stewart was dropped as assistant to the president. Mr. Morse, he says, was permitted to continue as a director at a reduced salary, while Mr. MacGowan, who is president of the Chile Steamship company, then resigned, and Mr. Eilers was ousted, all opposition being thus wiped out.

Mr. Eilers says he is acting because his father was one of the founders of the company and has been with it thirty-one years.

Woman Cashes Checks for $700; Must Pay All Back
Celebration of the Yuletide holidays probably will not be as elaborate this year as in former times, for Mrs. Elsie Brown, 24 years old, 7015 South Elizabeth street. According to the police she will be required to reimburse the Western Union company for the total amount she has paid on worthless checks. Mrs. Brown was formerly in charge of the Western Union office in the Morrison hotel. She admitted cashing checks for S. L. Edelman, 29 years old, 1246 Pratt boulevard, to the amount of $700. Edelman was arrested yesterday.

YOU CAN TRADE WITH REDS AT YOUR OWN RISK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Removal of the wartime restrictions against credit transactions with soviet Russia was announced by the treasury department today, with the approval of the state department. The raising of this embargo is effective from Saturday, Dec. 18, and its effect will be to suspend all barriers against the exportation of coin, bullion, and currency from bolshevik Russia, or which restrict dealings or exchange transactions in Russian rubles. This action, however, in no way means government sanction of commercial relations.

The action announced today is the result of conferences the last few weeks among department officials. Great importance is not attached by them to the action, as it is not their belief that the removal of these credit restrictions will result in the development of any extensive credit transactions with Russia. Removal of restrictions against trading with Russia has not resulted in the revival of trade with Russia and the lifting of the credit embargo is expected to have about the same effect.

INCOME TAX

To the individuals who are affected by the Federal Income Taxes:

(According to the latest figures available, 139,514 individuals pay income taxes in the State of Illinois.)

To every one of you a 6% Municipal Bond is really worth more than 6%.

It is equivalent to a taxable bond yielding from 6 1/4 to 22%, according to your tax.

This is because—
MUNICIPAL BONDS are

TAX-EXEMPT

from all Federal Income Taxes

Intrinsically they are worth still more because of their desirability as investments.

As an example of their SAFETY:

IF 44,149 people signed an agreement with you under seal that if you will allow them to use your money, which they need to build roads and bridges, they will repay you in a definite number of years and pay you interest at 6 %, and—

These people pledge all they own (including 370,560 acres of land), valued at over $57,000,000, to pay their bonds, which constitute an indebtedness of less than 2 cents on the dollar, and—

The principal and interest are paid from taxes which are collected regularly, regardless of business conditions, and have prior lien over all other debts—

WOULD YOU feel that you had made a safe and profitable deal?

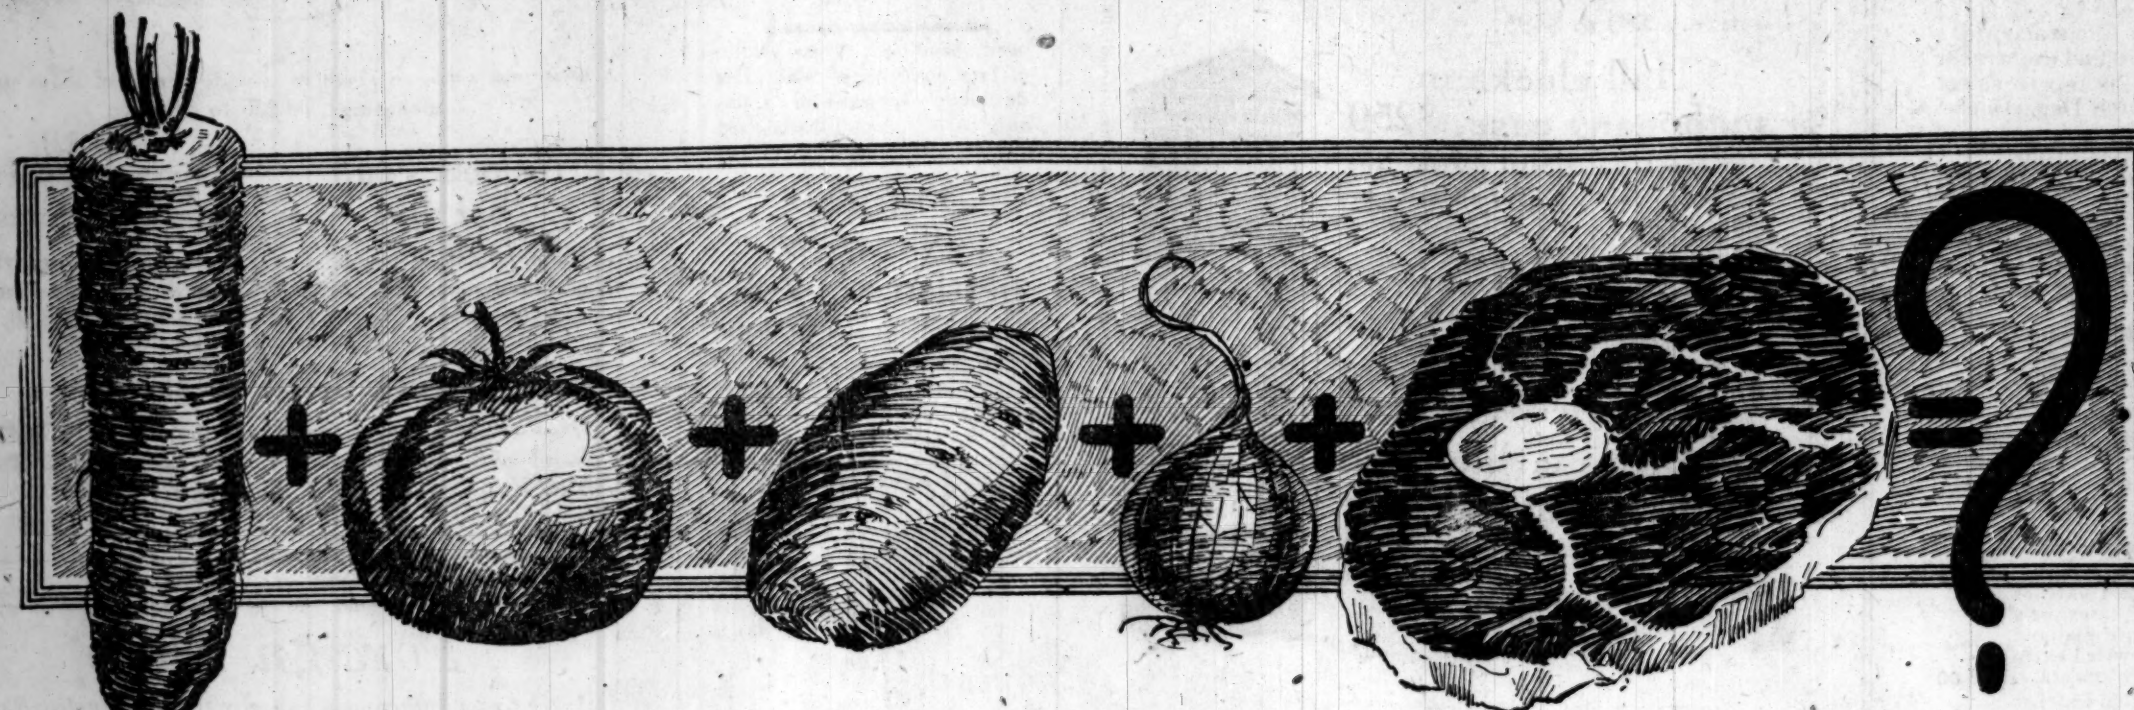

We offer the bonds of a county organized in 1785 of which these conditions are true at prices to yield from 5.65% to 6%.

We will be glad to send you a circular describing this issue, also our latest general circular listing 70 issues of similar bonds.

BISHOP BURCH DIES SUDDENLY FROM OVERWORK

New York, Dec. 20.—(Special.)—The Rev. Charles Sumner Burch, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York, died suddenly today. The bishop was taking a walk up Riverside drive at noon and near Grant's tomb became so weak he fell to the home of an old family friend, Mrs. Alice M. Douglas, at 550 Riverside drive, where he died.

Worn out by hard work on plans for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and other vexatious problems of administration, the bishop fell ill about two weeks ago. Even when confined to bed for a few days he kept up his work. Several severe attacks of laryngitis reduced his strength. He remarked this morning to associates that he felt weaker than usual and thought a walk in the warm sunshine might relieve him. He left the cathedral grounds alone shortly before 12 o'clock.

Charles Sumner Burch was born in Pinckney, Mich., June 30, 1855. His father, Lawrence D. Burch, was a writer, and it was from him that he received encouragement to devote his life to literary work. Graduated from the University of Michigan, he was delayed for years in his determination to continue his studies for the ministry—a goal that had been placed before his eyes years before his entry into newspaper work by the wishes of his mother.

Asked whether he did not think it unusual for the church to recruit a bishop from the newspaper business, the bishop once replied:

"Perhaps so, but I was a lay reader while yet in journalism. I think the most appreciated honor of my life was my election to the editorship of the university Chronicle, the college paper, except being made first baseman on the college baseball nine."

He studied in Germany and England and was at Oxford with Bishop Greer. His first and only assignment to the rectorship of a church was to St. Andrew's at Stapleton, Staten island. In the later years of his service on Staten island he was archdeacon, and it was said of him that he knew the island, not only in its churches of all faiths but in all its other institutions, better than any policeman or man of any other calling.

JEERS AT WIFE BY SALOON GANG CAUSE SUICIDE

Fear of insanity prompted the suicide of Frederick Seff, 30 years old, who shot himself on the doorstep of his home on Saturday, according to a letter opened by Deputy Coroner S. L. Davis yesterday. Mrs. Seff, who was divorced by her first husband and married Seff four years ago, told the deputy coroner that men in Edward Overmann's saloon at 1134 West Eighteenth street had jeered at her husband for marrying her.

"He got into frequent fights in the saloon over me, and after one of these fights complained of pains in his head," she said.

"Forgive me for taking my life,"

Seff's letter read: "I am afraid of insanity from pains in my head. I can't help all that took place in Edward Overmann's saloon on May 18, 1918. Concerning my property, it is worth $5,700. In the bank I have $2,000."

HOW TO MAKE 1921 Your Biggest Year

If you are one of the 95%—intelligent, ambitious, fairly well educated—who know that they have it in them to do bigger things if they only knew just what to do, "The Right Way of Sizing Up People at Sight" will guide you into your proper vocation and enable you to influence all with whom you come in contact.

If you are one of the happy few (5% only) who are in their supremely right vocation, "The Right Way of Sizing Up People at Sight" will show you how to produce still bigger results by presenting your proposition in a way to appeal to each different type according to his viewpoint.

If you are an employer it will enable you to tell at a glance which man is the right one for the job, and how to deal with him so as to make him efficient, loyal and happy.

The laws of "The Right Way of Sizing Up People at Sight" are simple and easily understood. It is the only system that has no modifications and no exceptions.

The president of a Chicago corporation says: "I am now using 'The Right Way of Sizing Up People at Sight' in my Credit Department. If I had known it a month ago I would have saved $3,000 just on one transaction. I only hope my competitors do not realize its benefits until my salesmen are thoroughly familiar with it."

Come to today's demonstration and see for yourself how quickly and surely one man can size up another—if he knows the laws. Personal analysis will be a feature of the demonstration.

The Store of the Christmas Spirit

From the Ends of the Earth

GIFT MAKERS who would stray from the beaten paths of selection; home builders seeking the rich token that spells beauty in the household; lovers looking for a precious bond of affection; friends craving the exotic for the expression of esteem—all can find here a wealth of foreign treasure from which to draw the gem desired. The Sections offer hundreds of suggestions for gifts, large and small, from the finest to the least expensive.

Imported Jewelry, Clocks and Leather Goods

A GAIN we have extensive collections of foreign Jewelry; brooches, bracelets and other ornaments, of jet and marcasite, and of delicate mosaic work. Necklaces of amber, of coral of different shades—the deep, rich red from the coasts of Japan, pink from Italy's shores—of amethyst, topaz, lapis lazuli, aquamarine, ivory, onyx and jade. There are interesting pieces of cut jade, exquisite cameos of rare coral and many other beautiful pieces.

Rich with Christmas suggestions are the Sections where handsome beaded, silk, and brocade bags are found, and imported leather goods of all kinds—sewing boxes, picture frames, portfolios, attaché cases and guest books.

Imported Clocks of bronze and marble form, we believe, the finest collection of its kind anywhere to be seen.

First Floor, Wabash

Velvets, Brocades

RICHER even than those gorgeous stuffs which the lavish centuries of the Louis produced, are the French metal Brocades, splendid with gold and silver against black or brilliant colored backgrounds.

Chiffon Velvets from French looms, of all the lovely evening colors, are so exquisite and supple that no expert hand is needed to drape their soft lengths.

Silk, Second Floor, South, State

Antique Furniture

THE customs and character, the art and development of past centuries, are indelibly written in the Furniture of different periods, of which we have some authentic and very beautiful specimens in our Fifth Floor Interior Decorating Sections. Graceful chairs from the reign of Louis XV, small painted chairs and commodes which represent the art of Italy in the century, an Elizabethan Court board, a wonderful painted leather screen of the Georgian period; these and many other fine pieces form an interesting and unusual collection.

Fifth Floor, North, Wabash

Oriental Rugs

LIKE fine old paintings which soften and grow richer with the passing of years are Oriental Rugs, true treasures of the household. Into them are woven the wonderful soft coloring, the repose and nameless charm of quiet mountain villages; while the curve of the lily stem, the bloom on the peach, the graceful river-loop—all form the underlying motifs of their designs.

From Persia comes the Kerman-shah, from Afghanistan the Bokhara and the Khiva, from the Caucasian Mountains the Daghestan, the Anatolian from the far distant countries of Asia Minor. Certain Felt Rugs come from India, and Chinese Rugs from the walled city of Peking.

Third Floor, South, Wabash

Rare Tapestries

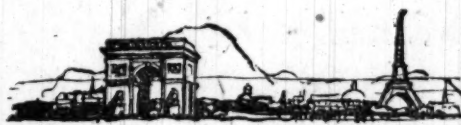

FINE old wall-hangings, whose colors are mellow with age and figures dimmed with the passage of time, are to be found in our collection of Tapestries. One especially fine piece which dates from the Flemish Renaissance, was inspired by Botticelli's "Primavera," and shows the scene of a chase on the grounds of a castle, and groups of dancing maidens.

There are fine modern pieces as well, of English needlework, petit and gros point, particularly adapted to furniture covering. And a very interesting collection of crewel embroideries, copies of the celebrated Haddon Panels, in the Kensington Museum of London.

Fifth Floor, North, Wabash

Artwares, Fine Porcelains, Lamps and Antiques

FULL of inspiration for gifts are these Second Floor Sections where you find tea sets of fine porcelain from world-famous kilns, fragile baskets of Belleek ware, delicate, translucent glass from Venice. There are brasses from Benares and Moradabad; boxes, books and desk appointments of tooled and painted leather from Italy, made by clever craftsmen to simulate the dusty, age-worn treasures of long-forgotten princes. Little dancing figures of gilded ivory, marbles, pottery and a thousand other things are such as give to the home an atmosphere of individuality and personality.

THE LAMP ROOMS offer unbounded interest.

Here are found exquisite and individual pieces—Lamps made from imported porcelain vases of lovely coloring and high glaze, glowing softly in the mellow light cast by their tinted shades. There are vases of bronze, of alabaster and other marbles, found in Italy, France or other parts of the continent by our representatives; there are vases and jars, and even so unique a piece as a great brilliant-plumaged bird, of Chinese porcelain. With shades as beautiful and individual as the vases themselves, these are mounted in our own work-rooms, where the artistry and ingenuity of foreign artists are put to practical use by the valuable knowledge of lighting effects which our decorators possess.

THE connoisseur and visitor to many a museum finds much of new interest and value in the Antique Rooms—queer, carved jades and crystals, Mandarin coats, lacquer cabinets, choice pieces of pottery, bronze and Chinese glass, marbles, flower panels and many curios—all telling their story of foreign lands and bygone ages.

Second Floor, Wabash

Fancy Goods and Oriental Novelties

AS BRILLIANT with color and novelty as a little foreign bazaar, the Fancy Goods Section displays its entrancing wares, solving many a problem of the gift seeker who has in mind the person difficult to please. Lovely old brocades are for table scarfs, quaint pieces of petit and gros point semi-made, with materials for completion, are for the chair seat or little stool needing individual finish. Table covers and pillows of Normandy lace; bags, pillows, scarfs of Italian embroidery, and exquisite embroidered cases and sachets from France.

And beneath gay lanterns strung over the Oriental Section are fascinating arrays of lacquer boxes, bowls and trays, gorgeous pieces of Chinese embroidery, Mandarin coats, beaded and tasseled baskets and many another curious and native expression of Oriental art.

Third Floor, South, State

Handkerchiefs

THE charm in the gift of Handkerchiefs, since it makes no claim to novelty, lies in their beauty and fineness and in the age-old tradition which assures us they are ever welcome. For such a gift may be as personal or impersonal as the donor cares to make it.

How many different countries have contributed their needlework to these delicate squares of fine linen and embroidery! French Handkerchiefs with cut, hem-stitched or rolled hems are exquisitely made; Armenian Handkerchiefs, trimmed with hand-made lace; while from Switzerland, Porto Rico and Madeira come exquisite examples of the hand-work of those countries.

First Floor, South, State

Fine Needlework

EXQUISITE laces and embroideries make their never-failing appeal to all women in whom is an inherent love of delicacy and fineness. Table embroideries and laces, in the Linen Section, show beautiful sets of Venetian cut-work and other kinds of Italian as well as Madeira embroidery. There are even a few pieces of lace rare enough for museum pieces.

In the Lace Section are collars and laces by the yard, of rose, and Venetian Point, Point de Paris and Point de Milan, Valenciennes and many others.

Fine embroidered Undergarments are of French and Philippine make, while Kimonos of rich velvets were embroidered for us in the Orient.

French Kid Gloves

SONG and story once wove around Gloves the glamour of romance. Today they're mainly detail all-important to the perfection of a woman's toilet. Fine French Kid Gloves are a gift no woman could fail to appreciate, especially with the opera season and holiday festivities rendering them so necessary. Assortments of both long and short Gloves are now complete, offering gift selections certain to please.

Choice Perfumes

FLOWERS that blow on the slopes of the Maritime Alps are grown for the great perfume industry of France. From the distilleries, where their rare essence is extracted, to the famous parfumeurs of Paris, and thence to us in fascinating and unique packages, unmistakably French!

Rosine, always chic and distinctive, sends Toilet Waters in brightly painted glass bottles; from Guerlain are Champs Elysées and Rue de la Paix, two of the most favored imported essences. And Volnay has several quite new contributions—Fleurs Vives, Naomi, Chypre. From Caron, Houbigant, Gosselin, Lenthéric, are Perfume Sets for gifts of particular distinction.

AURORA STEEPED IN POLITENESS; WOMAN WINS $50

All Try to Aid Stranger
Seeking Friend.

Solomon should have been present in the Aurora Y. W. C. A. yesterday afternoon to determine which of two women had earned THE TRIBUNE'S $50 courtesy prize.

On one side of the counter was the politeness reporter—a mere male in quest of a mythical female. On the other side stood Miss Carrie Proctor and Miss Straud Hurst, both avid to locate the lady for the apparently romantic search.

"Do you know of a Miss Patricia Nolan?" the reporter had asked anxiously. He went on to state that Patricia had been a good friend of his out in California.

Miss Hurst looked through the list of members and shook her head. She appealed to Miss Proctor, general secretary of the "Y"—a pleasant looking woman whose hair is just beginning to gray. The latter went into conference with the city directory.

Seems a Romance.

"Is she staying with any one?" the reporter was asked.

"I'm not sure. I think her aunt."

"No!" exploded the reporter. "I certainly hope not."

Miss Proctor, scenting a romance, began to laugh.

"I meant the aunt," she explained, taking up the phone book to discover if the only Nolan in the city directory had a number. Nope was listed.

Even Phones Postoffice.

"I'll try information," volunteered Miss Hurst. While she was asking the office of the wire for her hypothetical Patricia, Miss Proctor slipped into the lobby to pass the women sitting there. No success.

"About the only place left is the postoffice," suggested one.

"But it's against the rules for the postmaster to give that information," said the reporter. "Perhaps," he added, "if some one who is known in town would phone him he would tell."

Miss Proctor took the hint.

"Well, I'll try," she said.

Few Are Impolite.

"He said to call up later," she announced and incidentally reported one of the few impoliteesses discovered in the town of Aurora. "I asked him another question and he hung up."

"And will you call him again if I come back in a little while?" asked the reporter.

"All right."

The courtesy seeker sought the street to cogitate with himself. This business of giving away $50 in Aurora was no cinch. Outside of the foreign looking individual in the A. E. & C. restaurant and the colle on Lincoln street who barked at him, no one had been impolite since he landed in town.

Many Try to Help.

At Y. M. C. A. where the reporter asked for a certain John Richardson, the young woman at the desk had gone through all the records in search of him. Then a man had taken up the search, finally sending him to the American Legion headquarters.

At the chamber of commerce the politeness seeker had used up the time of two secretaries, hard at work upon yearly reports, and neither had lost his patience.

In the city clerk's office he had found a young woman telephoning.

"Never mind. I'll wait till you are through," he told her, but she insisted on interrupting the wire conversation to dig up the city directory for him.

Then she appealed to another clerk—a man—who also tried to help.

Even the residential district had failed to uncover a useful citizen. Striking the doorbell at 55 South Lincoln street, the reporter asked to see the landlady.

"No one by that name here," replied the landlady. "Are you sure it isn't North Lincoln street?"

Awards the Prize.

The reporter, balancing in his mind all the incidents of his most recent expedition, decided that Miss Proctor had been a more cooperative find than had Miss Hurst.

"You must have thought she was some one," he said, "after all the fuss I made."

Miss Proctor sought to disregard the remarks.

"It's only part of our Christian duty," she told him. "It's the least we can do to help out others when they are in need. I'm not always polite, however," she added, just by way of remarking that she might have remembered about her head. "Some times I get pretty irritated with all the questions which are asked me over this

Sisters, Most Popular in Their Classes at U. of C., Are Engaged.

MARTHA BARKER.

JEAN BARKER.

When University of Chicago students voted the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus A. Barker, 5425 Kimbark avenue, the most popular girls of their respective classes, the result was received with approval by two of the university athletes.

"You're a lucky fellow, engaged to the most popular girl in the junior class," Carl W. DeFeaugh remarked to his chum, Harry A. MacGaughy. "Huh, you're not so unlucky, yourself," was the answer. MacGaughy was engaged to her sister, Martha, and Mrs. Barker yesterday formally announced the engagements.

During the war the sisters held executive positions with the American Red Cross.

MacGaughy is president of the firm of MacGaughy & Wheeler. DeFeaugh is owner and publisher of the American Lumberman.

"LINCOLN" IN LINCOLN SETTING

Mrs. George A. Carpenter, Frank McGlynn, and Caroline McIlvaine.

It seemed to Miss Caroline McIlvaine, at the Chicago Historical society, and to Mrs. George A. Carpenter, wife of the federal judge, that they were watching "Old Abe" Lincoln as he lived and thought.

Amid the extensive Lincoln collection at the society, Frank McGlynn, the stage impersonator of the great liberator, was guest of the society at tea yesterday.

Eating from a set of dishes that graced Lincoln's table at the White House so many years ago, and seated in a chair used in the executive mansion, Miss McIlvaine exhibited with pardonable pride the shawl and coat that the great man had worn, now the property of Judge Carpenter.

Mr. McGlynn was urged to don the shawl and coat of Lincoln, but refused. "The mantle of the wonderful president is not for my poor shoulders," he said.

U. S. Grand Jury Begins Building Inquiry Today

More than a truck load of books and records gathered by the government in the investigation of the alleged building monopoly in Chicago will be taken before the federal grand jury today. Thirty representatives of building trades, contractors and manufacturers will be examined.

Among those subpoenaed are W. B. Harrington, secretary of the Melrose Mill company; George R. Rinn, secretary of the Rinn-Phillip Lumber company; J. D. Anderson, secretary of the Anderson Mill and Lumber company; and Henry T. Trayer, secretary of the Von Platen & Dick company.

KU KLUX TRAILS WHITE SHADOWS OF THE MIDWAY

Co-eds Pull Down Shades,
Men Students on Guard.

BULLETIN.

Four "Kludding bandits" in a closed automobile last night held up Jasper King, O. D. Pett, and Peter Sears, students at the University of Chicago, living at Beta Theta Pi fraternity house, 5147 University avenue.

The students were singing a college song as they walked toward the fraternity house. The bandits heard it and drove toward them. Three robbers with revolvers stepped out.

"Step in and take a ride," invited the leader. The song died away. The students were driven to Drexel avenue and Fifty-eighth street. King lost $3 and an $85 coat; Pett surrendered $20 and his coat, and Sears $15 and his overcoat.

Louis M. Bangs, 975 East Sixtieth street, also a student at the university, was robbed of $25 and a gold watch by three automobile bandits.

A night school in silhouette studies has been inaugurated at the University of Chicago, without the sanction of the authorities. They have, in fact, invoked the aid of the police and special guards to close the school, because, it is alleged, the students are the persons responsible for the recent wave of Midway outlaws.

Silhouette classes start on the campus and portions of the grounds contiguous to the girls' dormitories each evening soon after sunset. Those who hunger and thirst after knowledge pursue their studies in defiance of the police. So a volunteer Ku Klux Klan of male undergraduates has been asked to disperse them.

It became known yesterday that L. R. Flook, superintendent of buildings and grounds, called attention to the situation when he had men investigate complaints of co-eds that they were being annoyed. As a consequence Dean of Women Talbot issued a bulletin warning all girl students that must keep their shades down after dusk or be punished.

Mr. Flook said conditions were so serious on the Midway south of the campus "that if you go out after 11 o'clock at night your chance of being held up are a little better than even."

We have several reports of students being robbed and one girl is supposed to have lost her coat and dress. None of these crimes was committed on the university grounds, but many of them were in the neighborhood.

The male fist is the solvent, in the opinion of Mr. Flook, for the brethren who annoy co-eds. The Ku Klux Klaners have been chosen for their proficiency in the art of boxing, and their intention is to hit first and talk afterward.

FARM DAD FOILS CITY CHAP'S LOVE, GETS GIRL BACK

As Miss Bernice Antoine, 18 year old daughter of Frank Antoine of Amboy, Ill., climbed to the platform of the train that was to take her back to her father yesterday she raised one last despairing wail.

For Bernice didn't like the plans her father had made for her future and had eloped to Chicago.

With his "hired man" only to be found at the home of the latter's parents and to suffer the ignominy of being taken home by a sheriff.

Louis Briglio of 1924 West Van Buren street is the man in the case. Some time ago he became enamored of farm life and went to work for Antoine. Then along came Bernice, and Louis forgot the cows and pigs.

His attentions were resented by Antoine, who planned a scholastic career for the girl. Whereupon the young fellow slipped in father's flivver.

They tried to get a license here Sunday, but the bureau was closed, so Bernice was staying with Louis' family. They planned to get married yesterday, but father and the sheriff arrived too soon.

Briglio was locked up on a charge of abduction and Bernice went back to the farm.

THE ELKS REMEMBER

"Let us forget" is a caution in regard to the soldier boys that the Elks apparently do not need. They "remembered" last night by giving a Christmas party to the veterans at the federal vocational school. Left to right—Herbert Epstein; Miss Irma Dickson; and Jack Dyer enjoying Santa's bounty.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.

Do you use your franchise as an American citizen?

Where Asked.

Michigan avenue, between Monroe and Adams streets.

The Answers.

Charles A. O'Malley, 334 Stanley terrace—Yes, I enjoy the right to vote and I enjoy all the privileges and advantages of the country. We shape the laws. I regret that we are not permitted to use our judgment on whether it is injurious to take a drink. Now there is agitation to take away the vote!

C. J. Donnelly, 332 South Michigan avenue—The only thing I don't agree with is the eighteenth amendment, in that it interferes with our liberty. Most of us came to America because we were restricted in the countries we came from. I am strongly in favor of a big American navy, and especially I am in favor of our government subsidizing a merchant marine.

S. E. McPhee, 7643 Oglesby avenue—I can say that I certainly appreciate the rights given me by the franchise, and I believe every citizen should do his best to explain to those who are not yet naturalized the advantages of being citizens of the greatest country on earth, and induce them to take out their citizenship papers.

W. M. Thompson, 3246 Hiawatha avenue—Yes, and I express my opinions when they do not in any way run counter to the laws of the country. By voting I feel that I am taking an active interest in the affairs of my country and furthering the great Americanization idea.

OFTEN KIDNAPED, GIRL ASKS THAT MOTHER GET HER

Little Pauline Pillman, 6 year old Racine girl whose father and mother

have kidnaped her from each other many times since their divorce four years ago, will appear before Gov. Philipp of Wisconsin tomorrow to tell him she wants to stay with her mother.

The mother, Mrs. Gladys Pauline Pillman, 22 years old, lives in Racine. She was charged by her former husband, A. O. Pillman of East Chicago, Ind., with abducting the child recently. Before the warrants he swore out could be served Pillman is said to have kidnapped the child himself from the mother. The police then refused to serve the warrant.

The little girl will ask Gov. Philipp to prevent her father from obtaining possession of her.

REVENTLOW SAYS MASONS PLAN TO RULE WORLD

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1920, By The Chicago Tribune.)
BERLIN, Dec. 20.—Count Reventlow attacks President Wilson and Leon Bourgeois, winners of the Nobel peace prizes, and the Free Masons in an article printed here today, entitled, "The Nobel Prize and Free Masonry."

Reventlow, who is known as a fire-eater, a military critic, and a friend of the Hohenzollerns, alleges there is a conspiracy on the part of the Free Masons to rule the world.

"President Wilson has never done anything for peace," Reventlow writes. "He could have shortened the war in 1918, but he had already pledged himself to follow England's policy."

Attacks Masonry.

"Wilson's peace plans followed the Free Masons' international plan. Germany has become a chaotic republic instead of the former strong monarchy which was a stumbling block for the world's Free Masonry."

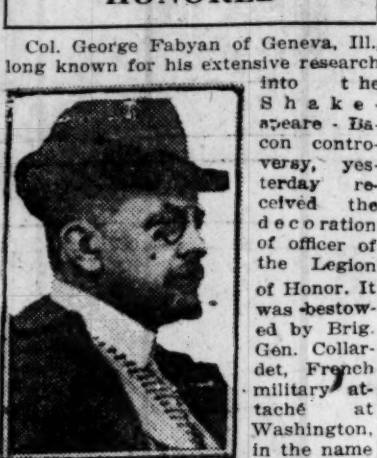

"In 1916 the American Free Mason magazine declared that Free Masonry was pledged against kings and junkies. Mr. Wilson was the conscious instrument of the Free Masons. Throughout the war and peace conferences Mr. Wilson carried out the aims and spirit of the Free Masons and the Jewish organizations."

Put Faith in Wilson.

"If Germany had not trusted Wilson like a child, the war would have been lost and Germany today would have been a monarchy."

"The Norwegian parliament gave the prizes to two Free Masons because Free Masons influence parliaments when monarchies are no longer strong. Free Masons led Norway's separation from Sweden. M. Bourgeois is the leader and agent of a secret Zionist society in Paris."

LAWYER FOR CAR SERVICE QUILTS; CLAIMS TRICKERY

Attorney William M. Lawton, who was directed to prepare a service order for improving the street car service in Chicago and report it to an advisory committee appointed by the public utilities commission, yesterday announced his withdrawal from the plan and explained his refusal to prepare the order.

Attorney Lawton, representing the Cook county real estate board, filed a petition with the commission in August, 1919, seeking certain improvements in car service. Mr. Lawton advised reverting in the loop. The Chicago Surface Lines wished provision incorporated in the order for one man cars, trailers during the rush hours, and perpetuation of the skip-stop ordinance. Mr. Lawton says he was informed the company officials "doubted the feasibility" of the reversion plan and that "the main thing to be accomplished was the incorporation of the three features they desired."

Mr. Lawton charges the plan was used merely to get public sympathy for the car company's plans, and that there was no intention of carrying out his suggestions. He demanded a written promise that his plans would be carried out and set yesterday morning as the time limit for his receiving such promise. The company failed to meet this demand.

Efficiency at the Throttle

THE automobilist appreciates good gasoline most when he steps on the throttle and notes the efficiency in performance of his engine—blueprint efficiency alone means little to him.

Knowing this, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has devoted much of its energy to the development of a motor gasoline which not only stands the grueling test of research laboratories, but which has proved its efficiency in thousands of cars operated under every-day road and weather conditions.

The Company has studied the needs of the motorist at first hand, and has developed Red Crown, its motor gasoline, to a point where it meets exactly the needs of the automobile engine operating under conditions obtaining in the Middle West.

The efficiency of Red Crown symbolizes the spirit which animates the Company as a whole in its endeavor to render an intelligent, efficient service to the public generally.

The tremendous increase in the number of automobiles and trucks from 1,253,000 in 1914 to 7,459,507 in August, 1920, has made more apparent than ever the absolute necessity of a comprehensive, dependable system of distribution.

The development of such a system has changed from something merely desirable to something vitally necessary. The best gasoline in the world is useless if you cannot get it when you want it.

Every step from refining to final delivery is of such importance to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) that its interest never abates until its gasoline is delivering maximum motor mileage; until its lubricating oils are helping do the work of the world to the satisfaction of the ultimate consumer.

The greatly increased yield of gasoline which this Company has been able to recover from the crude obtainable has been accomplished without sacrifice of quality.

Red Crown and Polarine performance are the best proofs of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service.

SUBURBAN EDICT D UNTIL F

Chicago commuters paying the

SUBURBAN FARE EDICT DELAYED UNTIL FEBRUARY

Chicago commuters will be spared paying the 20 per cent increase in rates asked by Illinois railroad, at least until the middle of February.

This became apparent late yesterday, when Examiner William A. Duque, acting for the interstate commerce commission, granted a continuance of the hearing until Jan. 13 in Washington. Attorneys for the railroad and the state utilities commission, which is opposing the increase, voluntarily reduced the time for filing their arguments from thirty to twenty days. This will bring it to Feb. 3 before the case is closed and the commerce commission is expected to take at least ten days in handing down a decision.

Asks Time to Sift Figures.

The delay in the hearing, which began Saturday and was resumed yesterday morning at the Great Northern hotel, was granted on the plea of Hugh M. Slater of the state commission for time to analyze operating cost tables submitted by the Northwestern railroad. He said he believed the railroad had allocated a greater proportion of their total operating cost than necessary to the suburban service, and asked time to show this.

The principal witness at the afternoon session was A. H. Huenermayer, general manager of the industries in Zion City, who opposed the increase on the ground it would be discriminatory.

Says Many Ride Free.

Robert Thomson, assistant general passenger agent for the Northwestern, testified that, although the traffic between Chicago and Glenview had nearly doubled in the last ten years, the service had not been improved because the road lost money. Failure to provide sufficient room for passengers was due, he said, to the fact so many employees ride free; the road carries nearly 70,000 passengers daily, of whom 8 per cent ride gratis.

MAJ. GEN. RICHARDS IS REAL BOOSTER FOR GREAT LAKES

Maj. Gen. George Richards, U. S. M. C., believes in boosting. Yesterday he paid his first visit to Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Here are a few of his comments to a reporter shortly afterward: "So splendid! Wonderful! Do you know? They've got 13,000 men out there in training for everything from a first class machinist to a tailor? And they're making every one of them a citizen? Talk about Americanization—this is super-Americanization."

"No—I wasn't here on any official business, just dropped in for a day. I'm going home tomorrow. But believe me, this visit was just worth while."

MAJ. GEN. GEORGE RICHARDS.

CHICAGO TO GAIN 1 CONGRESSMAN BY LEADERS' PLAN

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Illinois gets two additional members of congress by the reapportionment bill agreed to yesterday at Washington by a majority of the house committee having the matter in charge. This will give Illinois twenty-nine members, instead of twenty-seven. A bill to redistrict the state will be submitted to the legislature shortly after it organizes on Jan. 5.

The policy of the Small administration and the Republican state committee, it became known yesterday, is to have two new districts created, and to have two members elected at large, as has been the rule for the last ten years. This scheme is understood to have been approved by present members of congress. The main feature seems to be that probably there will be no changes in downstate districts, with the exception of the three that center around Chicago.

One New Chicago District.

Under the plan one of the two new districts will come to Chicago, probably to the northwest side, and the new downstate district will be created from Republican territory now in the Copley, Fuller, and Cannon districts, with the addition of Lake county. The northern district would consist of Lake, McHenry, Boone, and Winnebago counties. Kane, De Kalb, Kendall, and La Salle would make another, and Will, Grundy, Du Page, and Kane would constitute the third, all of which would be strongly Republican.

Fight Seen on Alternative.

The alternative of this, it was said, is to have a general reapportionment, with no members at large. Under such a plan, on the basis of population, Chicago would insist upon three of the four new districts. This certainly would be opposed downstate, and the deadlock that has prevented a redistricting for the last ten years probably would continue. In the event of failure of the legislature to pass a reapportionment act, four congressmen at large will be elected in 1922.

Conferences on legislative matters are scheduled to start in Chicago tomorrow. Governor Elect Small, State Chairman Frank L. Smith, and several of the downstate men allied with the incoming administration are to sit in.

A report is current that City Controller George F. Harding is being groomed for mayor, the theory apparently being that there is to be a vacancy in one of the senatorships, whereby Mayor Thompson could be appointed to the place by Gov. Snell.

Philosophy at 3 A. M. in Club Brings Fines to 25

Philosophy and psychology generally are not discussed in social clubs at 3 o'clock in the morning, Judge Howard Hayes told members of the Greenback Social club, 3243 South Wabash avenue, when William Robertson and twenty-six other men were arraigned before him yesterday on charges of disorderly conduct. The club was raided early Sunday morning and five women also were seized but later released. The men said they were "discussing philosophy and psychology." Robertson was fined $200 as keeper of a gambling house, and the others were given fines of $10.

OHIOANS PROCEED ON WAY TO TUNE OF FOE'S PROWESS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—That the Ohio State university football team, west-ern conference champion, which arrived here today on its way to the coast, where California will be met in the feature event of the tournament of roses, a carnival New Year's day, will have a much harder time than the gridiron fans in the middle west generally expect, is the consensus of opinion among prominent football coaches in the Rocky Mountain conference.

Harry Hughes, who coached Colorado Aggies to the championship this year, is firm in his belief the Californians will be the victors. He asserted Andy Smith has developed one of the strongest eleven in the history of coast football, and he is positive the team will be strong enough to permit the secondary defense to get back for Ohio's famous forward pass.

"Among Best in Country." "I have seen the east vs. west games in Pasadena for the last five years, and I believe this season's California eleven is one of the most powerful in the country," Hughes said today while watching Ohio practice. "We were only able to beat Utah by a small margin, but California defeated the same eleven by a tremendous score. Harvard won from Oregon last year, but the coast eleven was the weakest they ever represented the section in these battles. From what I know about California and have heard about Ohio, I believe the coast team will win."

Another well known coach in these parts who believes Ohio will have to play better football than it did in the Big Ten games, but it will be compelled to combat all sorts of conditions," Witham said. "The heat, for one thing, will greatly hamper the Buckeyes, while California is accustomed to the weather conditions. Coach Smith knows the plan of attack to be employed by the invaders and I know for a positive fact he has perfected a defense which will stop the aerial attack. California is a big team, fast in every respect, and well coached."

While this sort of comment is to be expected as the Buckeyes approach their journey's end, the story of "on Coach Witham or the Ohio players. They have been made to realize the responsibility which rests on their shoulders and are determined to play the same article of football they displayed in winning the conference championship."

Squad Works Out in Denver. The party aboard the special train arrived here early this morning and were guests of the Ohio Alumni club of this city. Players and others who make up the invading delegation were taken for an automobile ride through the interesting parts of the city and then were guests of the club at luncheon at the Metropolitan hotel. Short talks were made by the coaches and players. Coach Witham, always reticent regarding interviews, would make no comment. He believes in the theory that a welcome surprise is more pleasing than a bitter disappointment.

After the luncheon the team repaired to the Denver A. C. and donned the moleskins for the first time since leaving Columbus. Despite the snow covered field Witham sent the men through a long drill practice drill at the Broadway park, home of the Denver baseball club. Punting, throwing, and catching forward passes and blocking and checking on the line of the linemen constituted the workout.

Another Back Jobs Squad. The squad was strengthened this afternoon by the arrival of Thurman Widner, a backfield player, who came on from Columbus. Witham did not decide to take this player until after the squad had left Columbus last Saturday morning.

The special train left here late this afternoon and will arrive in Ogden tomorrow at noon. A stop of one hour will be made and then the journey will be resumed until Berkeley is reached Wednesday noon. A light workout will be taken on the University of California field, and Wednesday night will be spent in San Francisco. The team will stop at the Hotel Raymond in Pasadena.

RUMOR "BIG TEN" PLAN TO GREASE SKIDS FOR PURDUE

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—A rumor was in circulation on the Indiana university campus today to the effect that Purdue university is to be dropped from the "Big Ten" conference on the alleged ground that its football team violated the rules by starting practice last fall before Sept. 15, the day permitted by conference regulations, and also because Purdue has not won a conference football game in the last five years. The action is said to be contemplated at the next meeting of "Big Ten" officials in Chicago in January.

ENGLEWOOD TRIP NOT FAVORED, BUT TEAM CAN PLAY

If the Englewood High school football team accepts the invitation to journey to Long Beach, Cal., and engage the Pacific coast champions in combat on the gridiron, the members will do so as individuals and not as representing the Chicago schools. This was the tenor of a statement made yesterday by City Superintendent of Schools, Mortenson.

Supt. Mortenson explained that the Chicago high school football schedule had been heavier this year than in many years, and for that reason he did not think it advisable for the Englewood team to play again this year. He said that next year, when a lighter schedule is arranged, a game with the Long Beach boys can be planned.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

WOODS and WATERS

FOR AND AGAINST A NEW QUAIL LAW.

E. CLARK, Illinois, Ill., writes: "A recent note on quail tempt me to give you a little information about them in my locality. For a number of years we have noticed them getting less, but each season we hear and see a few, usually in the spring and early summer."

About five years ago, during a very deep snow, a farm west of me had a covey of about fifteen, which stayed about a month and a half, being fed by the farmer daily from a millet stack. I have never seen a prettier sight. They became quite tame and we could stand and watch them while feeding. As the snow disappeared they left.

"During the spring of this year I heard several, but have not seen or heard any this fall. Myself and numerous friends would like to see a closed season on them in Illinois. This seems to be their only salvation."

Joe Benedict, Chicago, not only refuses to believe that quail are becoming scarcer but is "agin" a closed season on them. He writes: "I have hunted quail in Illinois for twenty-one straight years. I don't believe that the birds are getting scarcer. Some years there are not as many as other years; sometimes they will be thinned out for two or three years, but again become plentiful. Don't believe shooting just anything to do with it. Of course if the farmers want a closed season the politicians will break their necks getting it for them. All the farmers have to do is to get peevish and congress will run with a bottle of new milk in the way of a loan or a warm law of some kind. Don't believe any hunter in Illinois wants a closed season on quail. A closed season never."

PRINCETON FIVE PLAYS MAROONS HERE ON DEC. 30

Chicagoans will get the first taste of Princeton-Chicago relations in athletics Dec. 30 when the Maroons and the Orange and Black meet on the basketball court. The Tigers will stop at Chicago for the second game of a western trip.

Chicago football enthusiasts also will get a chance to see in action several men who will be in the line-up of the Princeton-Chicago football game to be played at the Palmer stadium, Princeton, next fall, as the first of a home and home series between the two institutions.

Chicago and Penn played the deciding game of the American intercollegiate basketball series on the Princeton court last winter and the game was interesting not only as a contest, but also as an illustration of the difference in style of play between the east and west. The same should hold true on the thirtieth.

Princeton's entire first team, Capt. Nettie, Opie, Dickinson, Legendre, and Wittmer were members of the 1920 team, which tied for second place in the eastern league, and played in the longest game on record—an affair of four extra periods against the champion University of Pennsylvania team.

Illinois Eleven Guest at "Spread" Here Tomorrow

The football team of the University of Illinois will be guests of the Illinois club at its annual football dinner tomorrow night at the Hotel La Salle. Coach Zuppke will bring the team from Urbana tomorrow afternoon. George Huff, athletic director, and Zuppke will be on the program at the dinner.

HUSTON PAINTS BAN AS CAUSE OF BASEBALL'S ILLS

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The rival forces in the American league are again lined up for battle. On the one side are the owners of the New York, Chicago, and Boston clubs and on the other are Ban Johnson and the "loyal five."

Alleged petty politics by the Johnson wing at the American league meeting last week is given as the reason for the renewed "uprising." Under a system of rotation in the league the board of directors for the ensuing year should be made up of Messrs. Comiskey, Ruppert, Frazee, and Dunn. The Johnson followers refused to elect this quartet as Dunn alone is lined up as a Johnson supporter. Comiskey and Frazee were rebuffed. Ruppert declined to serve under the conditions which would be imposed, and the matter was left to the "loyal five."

Wants Ban to Take the Air.

During all the time last week when the meeting of the board of directors was being held Col. T. L. Huston, half owner of the Yankees, was confined to his home with illness. After consideration of the details Col. Huston today issued a broadside against Johnson, in which he charges Johnson and his followers with being dissenters in the new regime, insisting that only the elimination of Johnson and his power will make possible the peace in baseball which is so eagerly sought.

Huston's statement follows:

"Johnson's action in breaking the precedent of eighteen years in not electing New York, Boston, and Chicago members of the board of directors of the American league indicated clearly to me and his 'willful five' are dissatisfied with the new regime in baseball, and shows how very deeply he resents the part which these three clubs had in bringing about the new order of things."

"Johnson is Very Bitter."

"Johnson is against any plan that does not originate with him. He is reluctant to relinquish the power which is passing from his hands, and to his own incompetence. Johnson is very bitter against the owners of the three clubs—New York, Chicago, and Boston—because it was they who, in the May case, gave him his first real setback in baseball, and it was these same three owners who, by combining with the National league, compelled Johnson to relinquish the title of president of the American league."

"During the last two years Johnson has been strong and loud in his opposition to Judge Landis as chairman of the national commission. During the last year Johnson has fought the appointment of Judge Landis as chairman of the commission and successfully resisted the judge's entrance into baseball until compelled to consent at the recent Chicago meeting."

Says Ban Was Deserted.

"Johnson's show of acquiescence is the very hypocrisy. He had to surrender at the recent Chicago meeting because his 'willful five' deserted him in the fear that the proposed twelve club league would injure their property investment. No other reason would appeal to them."

"It was hoped the adoption of the new national agreement would bring about peace in baseball and leave all concerned free to devote their time to the purification of the game itself. Johnson has willfully broken open old sores, and his evident intention is to kick up and perpetuate rows which will be calculated to disgust and discourage Judge Landis at the start, but it is certain that Judge Landis will quickly find means to curb Johnson and his puppets."

Five Clubs Run Baseball.

"Johnson and his five clubs are banded together by ties other than true sportsmanship. Johnson announced two years ago that five clubs would hereafter run baseball. He has endeavored to carry this threat into execution."

"The strength of this unholy alliance has made Johnson exceedingly arrogant, and has been the cause of all recent trouble in the American league and in baseball, and until it is broken there can be no peace. The elimination of Johnson would automatically restore tranquility."

WILL NOT TRADE GROH OR ROUSH, SAYS HERRMANN

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—It would be folly to trade either Heinie Groh or Eddie Roush because such action would mean the closing up of Redland field, according to August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club, who returned from New York today.

"The Cincinnati club will not part with Groh under any circumstances," Herrmann said. "This is positive and final and the same goes for Ed Roush. Two deals are on the fire. Both, we trust, will be finished in the next few days, and one of them should bring Marvyn to Cincinnati, but Groh and Roush will not be included in any trade."

"It is true McGraw offered $150,000 cash for Groh and we refused."

"We are satisfied with the Marquard-Brether deal mainly because we had determined to lose Rutherford and to break up the combination that has been handicapping the Reds."

Rumor had it today that Marquard eventually will find his way to Baltimore along with Williams, a new outfielder, in trade for Jack Bentley, the Orioles star.

In the Wake of the News

JOHNNY WILSON, CHAMP?

WHAT sort of a spaghetti-spined champion is Middleweight Johnny Wilson that Mike O'Dowd, from whom he won the title last spring by the decision route, finds it necessary to offer Wilson $5,000 cash for a return engagement?

In these parts we regard O'Dowd as a real fighter, perhaps the best of his class. Concerning Wilson we must reserve our opinion. "Decision" champions never have been popular with pugilistic followers until they followed up such victories by vigorous and convincing defense of their laurels. In fact, many of the old school maintain no title ever should pass without the sporadic wallop.

Since Wilson uncrowned O'Dowd by the referee's verdict after twelve rounds of milling at Boston in May, O'Dowd has engaged in nine combats. Wilson in four. O'Dowd's opponents included Jack Britton; Knockout Brown, whom he stopped; Ted Lewis, in fact, any miller willing to go.

Wilson's opponents, apparently, were selected with more care—Soldier Bart, field, whom he outpointed in twelve rounds; Young Fisher, who held him even for ten rounds; Steve Chynski, whom he stopped in five sessions; and George Robinson, who upset the "champion" twice in a ten round no-decision affair. That's all.

Meanwhile O'Dowd has clamored for a return engagement without avail, asserting, no doubt with truth, that he owed his best form when he lost the title.

Mike O'Dowd is entitled to a return match with Wilson. Until he gets it we cannot accept Wilson seriously as middleweight champion.

PETE HERMAN QUILTS TRAINING FOR LYNCH; EACH PROMISES KAYO

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Bantamweight Champion Pete Herman is attending strictly to his knitting these days, and while not boastful, the little New Orleans fighter who clashes with Joe Lynch for fifteen rounds at Madison Square garden Wednesday night enters no fears about losing the title which Lynch covets.

The little bantam boss has finished his training and now is awaiting the bell for the opening of festivities.

There were spots in the City of Chicago yesterday which resembled a city in a state in which boxing is legal. We hopped into a couple of sales headquarters for tickets for a benefit performance billed for last night at the Auditorium and found plenty of fellows slipping the jack over the counter for ducats. They were doing this despite the fact that boxing, which was billed, is illegal.

But that wasn't anything, compared with the action witnessed at the Arcade gymnasium.

At the Arcade an army of boxers were crowding each other around the limited floor space, and champions and near champions elbowed about to display themselves before a crowd which was far too large for the gym.

World's Lightweight Champion Benny Leonard was among those who peeled off the street duds to go into action. Leonard and Manager Billy Gibson landed in town early in the morning and at 2 o'clock appeared at the Arcade.

Leonard was full of pep and conversation. He took the visit here as a good chance for the workout, for he is to box in the east on Christmas day, meeting Chick Simlar of Scranton, Pa., in a ten round battle.

Other noted stars of the ring game in the city last night included Richie Mitchell of Milwaukee, Lew Tendler, Philadelphia lightweight; Pal Moore, Memphis bantam, and Frankie Mason, the Fort Wayne bantam.

De Foe to Scrap Britisher.

Billy De Foe, the clever St. Paul featherweight, is all primed for his fifteen round bout with Freddy Jacks, crack English fighter, at the Commonwealth Sporting club tomorrow.

De Foe for some time has been casting longing glances at the featherweight title and believes if he can dispose of the British boxer he may be able to coax Johnny Kilbane into considering him for a championship contest.

This bout carries with it a real international flavor. Jacks comes here with a strong boost from Jim Driscoll, the old English bantam, and from all accounts De Foe is in for a brisk fight.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—New York, present champion and former holder of the western title, used to say that he never did believe in the possibility of making a hole in one unless by some miracle of chance.

In the course of twenty years' activities on the links, Sawyer declared he not only had never holed out in one himself, but had never even seen the feat accomplished.

Yet Sawyer has now given himself an unwitting demonstration of the possibility of the achievement. Playing at the Sleepy Hollows Country club against John W. Harris, Sawyer made the second hole of 190 yards in a single stroke.

It was some time after he had accomplished the feat before he realized it. He combed the surrounding territory microscopically, searching high and low for his ball, before it occurred to him to look in the cup.

DUNDEE BATTLES MORAN TO DRAW IN HARD TUSSELE

New Orleans, La., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Johnny Dundee of New York and Pal Moran, this city, fought a hard fifteen round draw tonight before 3,000 fans in Pillsbury's garden.

Both men went at it hammer and tongs during the whole fifteen rounds. First Dundee and then Moran would have a shade. Dundee's flying punch and Moran's left jab did most of the effective work.

Once or twice Moran staggered Dundee with hard rights to the stomach, but Dundee rallied and was ever on top of his man.

Chip Burns was knocked out in two rounds by Freddy Brower.

"Song of the Soul"

Almost a Dirge for Florida Land Owners

"THE SONG OF THE SOUL"

Presented at Barbee's Loop theater.
THE CAST:
Barbara Stanwyck.....Vivian Martin
Fritz Leiber.....Charles H. Graham
Charles H. Graham.....Charles H. Graham
Charles H. Graham.....Charles H. Graham

By Mabel McElliott.
"The Song of the Soul" may worry some prospective owners of Florida land, armed with pretty brochures stating the joys of living in the land of alligators and orange groves. Because this picture at Barbee's, with the tres pretty Vivian Martin and the Shakespearean Mr. Leiber, is "set" in a most dismal (at least pictorially) section of what Percy Hammond is always pleased to term "the south" and its swamps, gloomy everglades, and sickle are not at all cheerful on the screen. No no like!

Purely of the theater, or, to be more scrupulously honest, of the studio, the story is that of a pure hearted but scared gentleman who, having married a wife who cannot see his defects, worries himself frightfully over the deception. You would actually think, to see the way he behaves about not having told her that he wears the honorable scars of a true hero, that he had, instead, murdered his sacred grandmother, or robbed a bank, or committed some other deed of foul nature.

However, I suppose any one's else troubles seem less real than our own, and maybe his particular molehill looked as big as any mountain.

You may, liking Vivian of the slight furrowed brow and almost saccharine expression, take the picture largely to your heart. I was not triflingly keen about it, nor about Fritz Leiber, who looks always as if he were about to begin the melodramatic Dan's soliloquy. Shakespeare's his forte, I'm sure, and not the cinema.

Southerners will get all set up about the use in all the subtleties of "you" in a singular sense. You know, they really don't say it that way! Ask me! I know!

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDGINGTON.
Salting Roast Fowl.

The point about salting roast fowl correctly may seem unimportant but it is not. If one's attention is once drawn to the fact it becomes astonishing to note how few recipes tell how to use salt to the best advantage in this work. It is easy to leave out all mention of salt in a recipe, although all meats require it to bring out both savor and flavor, and nothing emphasizes flavor like a just portion of salt.

Salt on the cut surfaces of raw meats draws out the juices. Heat and salt is more effective yet in doing this. Therefore, the best cooks for the most part do not add salt to the surface of meat until it is nearly cooked.

You may accompany a piece of cooked meat with salt if you are one of those thoughtful persons who ask for salt and use it before they have tasted of anything, but you cannot truly season that meat. There is no surer way of dulling the taste for fine things than this habit.

MUSIC

Galli-Curci Fills Auditorium with an Army of Worshipers

BY RUTH MILLER.

To the frenzied musical radical who insists that the symphonic accompaniment to lyric drama sob and moan and shriek as it follows the storm tossed emotions of the usual characters which infest conventional opera, "La Traviata" with its frisky tunefulness is like salt on an open wound.

He gnashes his teeth over the frivolous arias, glittering with unbelievable vocal ornamentation, that assist in the dramatic unwinding of the story of the compulsive demi-monde with the generous and too fond heart. He would prefer probably that during her gasping struggles with the fast encroaching disease the orchestra imitate her piteous cough.

But no matter how we may commend his operatic progressiveness and smile at the quaint orchestral attempts at emotional realism of "Traviata," our young iconoclast would have found himself in great disfavor last night if he had been too ostentatious in making known his contemptuous opinions.

For it was Galli-Curci night, and the audience was in no mood for quibbling and operative incongruities. They were there to worship the throbbing and breath-taking transience of her voice.

This dainty prima donna, whose wondrous touches with a viridescent tinge the eyes of her feminine onlookers, has had recourse lately to much use of a shimmering pianissimo. Whatever her reason may be for stressing this particular quality of her voice, the results she obtains with its sweet softness set her spectators to weeping for her adjective chapters of ecstatic praise.

Last evening in the second act, during the scene with Alfredo's father, there was an almost painful stillness in the house as the listeners caught and hoarded each opalescent tone.

A perfect vocal and dramatic foil for her Violetta was the Alfredo of Tito Schipa. He added a certain quiet dignity to his usual boyish charm that made him seem less like a hot headed youth involved in an ephemeral amorousness than in his previous performance some weeks ago. He sang, as always, lucidly.

As the well meaning but worldly parent whose paternal machinations precipitated the heart break and death of Violetta, Carlo Galli was an imposing figure. After his singing of the ballad "Di Provenza il mar," he received quite an ovation.

The remainder of the cast, which included Falco, Molino, Deferre and Ciani, was commendable. The final night had been accented at the many and obvious disagreements as to tempo between the singers and the orchestra, but at this performance critical comments were patently in the minority.

The exigencies of Christmas shopping did not dim the brilliance of the usual Monday night audience at the opera, and the house was a gay and brilliant one socially.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick had with them Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barney Goodspeed, Miss Anita Dunn, Gordon McCormick, and Thomas Thach of Princeton, N. J. Miss Edith Cummings was hostess to Mr. and Mrs. T. Philip Swift, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell, and Laurence Callahan.

With Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson were Mr. and Mrs. William R. Linn and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rosenwald.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mrs. Frankie Connelley, Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany Blake, and J. Dorr Bradley were in the Edward L. Ryerson box. Mr. and Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. John G. Shedd and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund D. Holbert.

With Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde were Miss Zella Barthelmy, Miss Sarah Haden, Arthur Meeker Jr., and Hubbard Allen.

With Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull were Mr. and Mrs. John Alden Spoor, Mrs. John R. Gott, and Watson F. Blair.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrill Dunn were guests of Harold P. McCormick and Miss Muriel McCormick.

Others in the audience were Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, Mrs. Robert Walker, Miss Martha Wilson, Miss Harriet MacLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. George Halleck Taylor, Mr. Charles Thorndike Parry, Mr. M. L. Harris, Miss Florence Harris, Thomas D. Jones, and John P. Wilson.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER. Paw's Opinion Doesn't Count

The regular pre-Christmas squabble was over. Winnie had won and the armistice was signed. "We'll save money and every one will be happy," she said. "Just take that vase that Aunt Lou sent you last Christmas, and ship it to Aunt Emmy. And that patch-quilt from Aunt Emmy you can send to Aunt Josie."

That's just what I was going to tell you to do," said father, settling back comfortably in his rocking chair while Winnie and her mother adjusted the tags and removed the second hand gifts. "I tell you, it takes a man to do things right," chuckled Paw, as he took a long pull at his pipe.

"Well, we've accounted for all the relatives, excepting Uncle Tom," said Winnie to her mother, as she helped store the presents away. "I don't know whether to get him a pair of slippers or a box of cigars." "Gosh, I dunno," puffed Maw. "Men are so hard to buy anything for."

Maw Winkle did not know which would be the more suitable present for Uncle Tom. After several fruitless efforts to decide, she said, "Winnie, why don't you ask yer Paw what he'd advise you to give yer Uncle Tom for Christmas?" "O," responded Winnie, "I intend to ask father, just as soon as I've made up my mind."

F. Ziegfeld Jr. Cleanses the Follies at the Colonial

The management of the Colonial theater and of the Ziegfeld Follies inform THE TRIBUNE that one or two incidents in Sunday night's performance of the revue, regarded by many as the best of the season, were omitted last evening from the play. The changes were suggested by Harry J. Powers to Mr. Ziegfeld in New York over the telephone, and Mr. Ziegfeld acquiesced. The scene in which the questionable details occurred is retained in the performance by Miss Ray Dooley and W. C. Field, but the more unpleasant gestures, pantomime, and imitations will not be present hereafter, according to the management.

Mr. Ziegfeld telegraphs THE TRIBUNE's dramatic editor as follows: New York, Dec. 20.—My Dear Hammond: When I last saw the Follies there was nothing in it any one could take objection to, including the scene to which you refer. I exceedingly regret my inability to be present Sunday night, and I assure you that I don't want anything in the show you do not think ought to be there. I am investigating and it will be modified by tonight's performance. Will try to get you on the telephone and explain more fully. Best regards and Merry Christmas. F. ZIEGFELD JR.

I exceedingly regret my inability to be present Sunday night, and I assure you that I don't want anything in the show you do not think ought to be there. I am investigating and it will be modified by tonight's performance. Will try to get you on the telephone and explain more fully. Best regards and Merry Christmas. F. ZIEGFELD JR.

Brief Answers.

L. R. Neenah, Wis.—The American Beet Sugar company earned 14 per cent on its $15,000,000 of common stock in the year ended March 31 last. The stock is speculative because of the violent fluctuations of earnings.

J. W. Milford, Ill.—The published reports of the Texas official records do not show any production by the Metropolitan Oil company of Houston during the first nine months of 1920.

What a Big New England Bank Writes About Credit Insurance

A leading New England Bank has just written the American Credit-Indemnity Co. as follows:

"Regarding Credit Insurance, would say that we believe a merchant or manufacturer should insure his accounts receivable for the same reason that he insures his merchandise against fire—to guard against loss."

"Almost all merchants suffer some loss each year through failures, and this normal loss, of course, cannot be insured; but at times, under abnormal, unforeseen and yet constantly recurring conditions, such loss may become great, and even embarrassing, and ordinary business prudence should lead a merchant to provide against this contingency."

This bank makes it very clear why they endorse precautions that prevent, else pay, bad debt losses beyond the normal, which the American's "Unlimited-Interim-Payment" Policy does.

Manufacturers and wholesalers, it will not obligate you to write or phone for the full particulars.

You will have the best of co-operation and assistance in a definite territory for an established house selling new as well as unassigned issues of bonds. U. S. B. Bonds for U. S. A. Investors EUROPEAN political adjustments have thrown the Americas closer together. In the Americas, stands the U. S. A. in size and resources, next to the U. S. B.—United States of Brazil.

Brazil has now reached that stage of development when her cities and industries are spreading from her coast to her vast interior—she is entering on a period of development similar to that experienced in the U. S. A. sixty years ago.

The per capita debt of Brazil, including internal and external loans, is about $41.69. Compare this with the per capita debt of the U. S. A., of $228.00; Argentina, $104.50; Chile, $59.00.

In the past Brazil has been financed by England. We have selected a few Brazilian loans out of the many listed on the London Stock Exchange, and recommend their purchase. They are obtainable at low prices due to the double discount of current interest and exchange rates.

We invite investors to write for our booklet on the United States of Brazil—it is full of facts about the great southern republic.

How to Build a Fortune By Systematic Saving

IT is not necessary to earn large amounts of money in order to build up a comfortable fortune. One may reach financial independence by steadily laying by a very reasonable sum—every week or every month—and steadily reinvesting the interest. Money thus used mounts up into really large sums with surprising speed.

FOR EXAMPLE—

One thousand dollars, invested at 6% with the interest reinvested every six months, will become $2,000 in 11 years.

Ten dollars a week, saved regularly and invested at the same interest rate, will amount to $20,000 in 20 years and a few months.

These are sample facts from our new booklet, "How to Pick Good Investments." It will be of the greatest help to you, if you are interested in saving, investing, and building up a comfortable fortune—or if you have savings which are earning only a low interest rate. Write today for this valuable book. It will be sent you by return mail, without charge or obligation. Ask for

FOREIGN TRADE STILL BOOMING; FARMERS LEAD

BY O. A. MATHER.

That the foreign trade of the United States is still far from the doldrums is disclosed in the figures for November issued by the department of commerce. Merchandise exports are deducted from these figures that the remarkable maintenance of our foreign commerce is due principally to agricultural shipments, just as the official figures showed to be the case for the entire year. It is added that the farmer has had a better foreign market for his product than the manufacturer.

November exports showed a decrease of 10 per cent from October, but otherwise have been exceeded by only four months of 1920, all occurring in the first half of the year. They fell $85,000,000 below November, 1919, but no other November has come within $150,000,000 of them.

Benefit by Lower Prices.

November exports of cotton, although smaller than in November, 1919, were 101,000 bales greater than in October and the largest of any month since March, while wheat exports have been similarly heavy. But last month's cotton prices were down fully 50 per cent and wheat prices off more than 25 per cent from November, 1919.

Imports show the progressive effects of business reaction in this country. November imports were $23,600,000 less than in October, and $231,000,000 below June, a shrinkage of 40 per cent. But although imports were the smallest since August, 1919, they were still far in excess of any autumn month in years prior to 1919. The surplus of exports over imports was $354,000,000, which is far beyond any previous November and compares with a November high record of $125,000,000 in the years before the war.

MERGER OF FOUR EXPRESS FIRMS MADE PERMANENT

The Interstate Commerce commission yesterday in Washington granted authority for permanent consolidation of the transportation business and properties of the Adams, American, Wells-Fargo, and Southern Express companies into the American Railway Express company. The commission said it was its belief that the public would best be served by one consolidated company, serving all lines, with equal rates.

The permit was based on an application filed by the four express companies last March.

CORPORATION EARNINGS

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK
For the six months ended June 30, 1920, net profit after depreciation and federal taxes was $20,194,976, equivalent to $34.92 a share on the $70,000,000 common stock.

CITIZEN-AMERICAN SUGAR
Report for year ended Sept. 30 shows net profit after all charges and depreciation, federal taxes, $12,117,191, equal after preferred dividend to $11.50 a share, par $10, earned on the $10,000,000 common stock, against $7,091,290, or $65.38 a share, par $100, on the $10,000,000 stock of the previous year.

KEYSTONE TIRE AND RUBBER
For the six months ended June 30, 1920, gross profit on sales was $485,501; total income, $482,470; net profit on operations, $201,308; surplus after interest, losses, etc., $201,353; dividends paid, $182,363; balance after dividends, $18,990; profit and loss surplus June 30, $1,233,592.

Despite the vast destruction of wealth caused by war, and the wasteful extravagance which followed it, the credit of this country remains secure. Its national wealth is estimated at more than 250 billion dollars and its yearly production in excess of 50 billion dollars. Its national debt is relatively small. It has vast undeveloped resources, a great industrial organization, a stable government, an ample gold reserve, a sound, efficient banking system and, above all, the vision to see and the will to do.

With the whole world seeking our credit and demanding our products, we occupy a most advantageous position for the development of foreign markets. New methods of adapting credit to the needs and opportunities of this situation are being devised. But the great necessities of the hour are confidence and the vitalizing of "frozen" credits.

In facing the unprecedented demands at home and abroad, our banks have endeavored to allocate available credit for the best economic results. They have assisted in the creation of new wealth by co-operating with essential, solvent business interests to meet the requirements of the present and to prepare for the future.

In the face of an increase of 140% in commodity prices, the cost of money increased, on the average, less than 2%, and money has remained the cheapest element in business enterprise. By reason of their conservative handling of the situation, American banks as a whole are in splendid condition to serve the business community in taking advantage of the opportunities ahead.

This Company has participated in this constructive banking effort, and, in the future development of American business at home and abroad, offers the co-operation of its trained organization of five thousand members; its capital, surplus and undivided profits of more than $60,000,000; its resources of more than $800,000,000; and its world-wide banking facilities.

CONTINENTAL AND COMMERCIAL TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, CHICAGO, CORPORATE TRUSTEE
THE ISSUANCE OF THESE BONDS HAS BEEN AUTHORIZED BY THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF MISSOURI AND THE KANSAS COURT OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

For detailed information regarding these Bonds, attention is directed to a letter of Mr. Joseph F. Porter, President of the Company, copies of which will be supplied upon request and from which the following is summarized:

The Kansas City Power and Light Company, serves with electric light and power the City of Kansas City, Missouri, and a portion of Kansas City, Kansas, the total population served being approximately 450,000.

These Bonds will be secured by a direct first mortgage lien on the recently completed Northeast Power Plant, certain sub-stations, and transmission and distribution lines, and other property; the aggregate value of these properties being approximately $10,500,000. On the remaining property of the Company these Bonds will be secured by a direct mortgage lien, subject only to underlying First and Second Mortgage Bonds now outstanding, and will share to the extent of 60% in the first lien on such property through pledge of $4,617,000 par value of Kansas City Light & Power Company First Mortgage Bonds.

The total value of the Company's properties, as recognized by the Public Service Commission of Missouri for rate making purposes, is in excess of $22,400,000. There will be $14,755,500 bonds (including underlying issues) presently outstanding in the hands of the public.

The Company's new Northeast Power Plant is one of the most modern and efficient steam generating stations in the country and is so designed that its present installed capacity of 60,000 kw. may be increased to an ultimate capacity of 240,000 kw.

The Trust Deed will provide for an annual Maintenance and Depreciation Fund amounting to 12 1/2% of gross earnings, as outlined in the President's letter.

Price 100 and interest, yielding 8%.

When, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel. It is expected that bonds in temporary form will be ready for delivery on or about December 28, 1920. Legal details pertaining to this issue will be passed upon by Messrs. Meyer, Austin and Platt, of Chicago, and by Messrs. Rushmore, Bishop and Stern, of New York.

BANKERS TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, Trustee

From a letter of Mr. Herbert A. Wagner, President, we further summarize:

BUSINESS: The Company does the entire gas, electric light and power business in the City of Baltimore, and its operations extend into suburbs and surrounding counties, serving a population of about 775,000.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of these $5,000,000 Bonds, together with additional cash to be furnished by the Company, will provide $5,625,000, for refunding $468,000 maturing notes and for additions and extensions to plants, transmission lines, and distribution systems, to be completed before the end of 1921.

SECURITY: These Bonds (equally with $3,500,000 6% Series A Bonds, pledged under the Company's 7% Secured Convertible Note issue, and $8,253,100 outstanding Convertible 5% Notes) are secured by a mortgage upon all property now owned or hereafter acquired. Bonds are reserved to refund all underlying issues.

EARNINGS: Gross earnings have increased from $6,789,401 in 1915 to $14,930,681 in 1920, and net earnings applicable to fixed charges from $3,212,818 to $5,295,634. Net earnings were 2.17 times fixed charges in the year ended October 31, 1920, and have been over twice fixed charges in each of the last 5 years.

SINKING FUND: An annual Sinking Fund of 1% of all First Refunding Mortgage Bonds from time to time outstanding, first payment not later than August 1, 1923, is to be used for purchase or call and retirement of First Refunding Mortgage Bonds.

DIVIDENDS: The Company has $14,608,700 capital stock outstanding. Continuous cash dividends on the stock have been paid since 1909, at rates averaging 6 1/2% per annum for the last 11 years. The present rate, 8%, has been paid since April 1, 1917.

FRANCHISES are unlimited as to time, and contain grants and conditions which are satisfactory. No other company can enter the field without the consent of the Public Service Commission of Maryland. The Commission has clearly recognized the principle that, as capital required for growth and development of public utilities must be secured from the investing public, investors must be assured that rates will be authorized which will insure safety of investment and continuity of return.

We recommend these Bonds for Investment
